

and Zion City. As to the latter city, Zion gave Lowden 1,429 votes; Wood, 97.

Harding and Hoover got a few votes—not enough to fill a half peak measure.

Among the Democrats, there was great paucity of votes, but McAdoo and Edwards seemed to be doing the splitting. Only a handful each.

Downstate Figures.

Returns from 2,778 precincts out of 3,242 in Illinois outside of Cook gave:

	Men.	Women.	Total.
Lowden	133,333	18,292	151,625
Wood	45,994	5,109	51,103

If the ratio indicated by these figures were maintained it would give Lowden a plurality of 106,400 downstate.

In Cook county itself the vote stood:

	Men.	Women.	Total.
Lowden	62,245	14,009	76,254
Wood	27,511	3,366	30,877
Johnson	35,516	5,385	40,901

This gave Wood a Cook county lead of 27,833, reducing Lowden's total margin to somewhere around the 80,000 mark.

Capital for Governor.

Sangamon county, seat of the capitol, gave the governor about 3,000 plurality, Springfield being good for 1,377 of this. The vote in Springfield was Lowden, 3,783; Wood, 2,046. Morgan county, next door, likewise rolled up a big Lowden lead, due to the activities of Andrew Russell, state auditor. Champaign city gave Lowden, 6,952; Wood, 3,822. Urbana, seat of the state university, went to the governor two to one. Jefferson county, home of Secretary of State Emmerson, manager of the Lowden campaign, did fairly well for the governor, the vote, with about half of the precincts in, being Lowden, 1,181; Wood, 232. Peoria, another stamping ground for the Moore, was another two to one shot for the governor, according to nearly complete returns.

Goes to 15 to 1.

Edwards county went nearly 15 to 1 for the governor. It was a small vote and it stood Lowden, 150; Wood, 11.

In Kankakee the primary, one of the bitterest in years, resulted in a victory for the Small-Curtis men, who defeated the Miller-Dyer faction by electing twenty-seven of the thirty precinct committeemen. Mayor Reuter was beaten 4 to 1 for precinct committeeman by the Small-Curtis men, but despite the factional battle the factions found time to do a little on the presidential race. Lowden got 4,224; Wood, 1,452.

Livingston county, home of Congressman Frank L. Smith, eastern manager of the Lowden movement, and state chairman, rolled up a Lowden vote of 3 to 1, the poll being Lowden, 2,304; Wood, 674.

In Cook county Wood carried Proviso township by almost two to one. He carried 101 out of the 112 precincts in the township which comprises Oak Park, River Forest, Forest Park, Maywood, Melrose Park, Bellwood, La Grange, La Grange Park, Berwyn, Cicero, Willow Springs, and Western Springs.

VOTE ON DELEGATES

The ten Chicago congressional districts chose two delegates each to the Republican national convention by votes given below. Names of the men chosen are printed in capitals and the vote for all is given. Thompson adherents are marked "T." Straight out Lowden delegates are marked "L." Johnson has one, marked "J."

FIRST DISTRICT.
GEORGE F. HARDING, T., 11,176; OSCAR DE PRIEST, T., 9,897; Augustus L. Williams, 4,390.

SECOND DISTRICT.
EDWIN S. DAVIS, T., 20,127; CHARLES RINGER, L., 13,696; Lessing Rosenthal, 10,428; Edwy Logan Reeves, 8,155.

THIRD DISTRICT.
(Chicago and County Towns.)
ELIOTT W. SPROUL, T., 14,693; ANTON T. ZEMAN, T., 15,274; William H. Weber, 8,730; William W. Wilson, 8,676.

FOURTH DISTRICT.
FRANK DOBLER, T., 4,233; HECTOR A. BROUILLLET, T., 3,597; Ernest W. Beck, 3,443; Otto H. Teschner, 2,270; Frank J. Palt, 2,148; George O. Brown, 1,684; Andrew A. Todd, 1,021.

In the Fifth and Sixth districts there were no contests. The Fifth gave majority for Lowden and therefore the delegates from that district are counted for him.

SEVENTH DISTRICT.
(Chicago and County Towns.)
JOHN P. GARNER, T., 39,008; ALBERT H. SEVERIDIAN, T., 36,416; Jens G. Hansen, 14,711; Henry J. Kolke, 12,403.

EIGHTH DISTRICT.
CHRISTOPHER MAMER, T., 3,516; MAGNUS C. KNUDSON, T., 3,071; Fred S. DeCola, 1,858.

NINTH DISTRICT.
WILLIAM WHOLEY JR., L., 7,782; MICHAEL J. FAHERTY, T., 6,707; Eugene R. Pike, 3,385; George F. Porter, 3,674; William F. Peters, 4,240.

TENTH DISTRICT.
(Elevan Lake County Precincts Missing.)
EDGAR J. COOK, Jr., 14,032; FRANK L. LOESCH, L., 12,712; William T. Abbott, 12,680; William L. Noble, 12,721.

DEMOCRATIC FIGHTS.

There were two Democratic contests over delegates, the results of the Sullivan organization winning both. The results in the Democratic fights follow:

THIRD DISTRICT.
(Chicago and County Towns.)
Frank J. Walsh, S., 6,439; Robert W. McKinlay, S., 4,497; James Hyland, 2,464; Joseph P. Ryan [1], 2,832; Joseph P. Ryan [2], 1,059.

FOURTH DISTRICT.
Joseph B. McDonough, S., 4,677; Charles J. Michael, S., 4,486; L. O. J. Milrod, 2,589.

Results Downstate.

In the three contested districts hotly outside of Cook county, the vote tabulated at 11 o'clock shows:

FIFTEENTH DISTRICT.
116 precincts out of 212: Christopher (L.), 3,749; Blum (L.), 2,857; Hedrick (L.), 1,010; Shallenberger (uninstructed), 1,242.

SIXTEENTH DISTRICT.
186 precincts out of 213: Hall (L.), 4,478; Anderson (L.), 3,461; Brown (L.), 3,575; Veld (uninstructed), 2,392.

SEVENTEENTH DISTRICT.
194 precincts out of 232: Erwin (L.), 3,355; Sauvage (L.), 4,097; Eckert (uninstructed), 2,000.

Lake Forest Votes to Purchase Its Water System

Lake Forest voted yesterday to purchase the Lake Forest Water company. The vote was 616 to 256. A $250,000 bond proposition to pay for the system carried, 647 to 250. Wood led the presidential candidates and John L. Spellman was elected city treasurer.

KIDNAPERS AND SUGGERS BUSY IN MANY WARDS

Shooting Affrays and Frauds Also Reported.

The shooting of one voter and the kidnaping of a judge of election and a precinct captain featured the carnival of violence which attended balloting in the Nineteenth ward yesterday.

Stuggings, attempted kidnappings, attempted shootings, reports of frauds and complaints of intimidation kept the police and election board officials busy throughout the day.

ADOLPH MUUS. The west and (Cover Photo) southwest wards. The tendency of Democrats to vote in the Republican primaries caused most of the trouble.

Joseph Jalline of 1209 Jackson boulevard was shot in the left foot by James Murray of 1144 West Harrison street in an altercation near the Tenth precinct polling place in the Nineteenth ward at 1110 West Harrison street.

Challenge Causes Trouble.

According to Ald. James Bowler, Democratic alderman, Murray had challenged the right of Jalline and four of his friends to vote for Republican committeemen because they had voted within two years at a Democratic primary.

According to the story told by Murray's friends, the five men closed in on him when he left the polling place. He emptied his gun, hitting Jalline. Policeman Louis Johnson, assigned to the polling place, heard the shots and saw Murray running away with a revolver in his hand. He fired once, but missed. Murray escaped. He later called Ald. Jalline and offered to give himself up this morning.

Jalline was removed to the Jefferson Park hospital by his friends. Two of his companions were questioned by the police and then released.

Two Are Kidnaped.

The kidnaping of Adolph Muus, Judge of election in the Twenty-fifth precinct of the Nineteenth ward, and Charles L. Nefmark, Republican precinct captain and neighbor of Muus at 727 South Ashland boulevard, was a unique feature of the "wild west" proceedings of the day.

The pair were released last night after having been forced into an automobile by five Italians, taken to a long shack in the outskirts of the city, held all day, and then brought to the city limits at Sixty-third street.

"We had just left the house when an auto swung up to the curb," said Muus last night. "Three foreigners, Italians, apparently, jumped out, and at the point of revolvers forced us to enter the machine."

Locked Up in Shack.

"They drove west, through Oak Park and out into the country. We were taken from the car and forced to walk for at least three miles. In the middle of a cornfield we reached a shack, which had no windows."

"The polling books and ballots were taken from us and we were locked in all day without food or water. Toward dusk the men returned and made us walk two or three miles to where an automobile stood. They put us in and drove us to the city limits at Sixty-third street and there released us."

Both men reported their experiences to the Maxwell street station and then to the election commissioners' office. A complete description of the automobiles, which bore no license tags, and the men was taken by the police. The five foreigners were believed to be workers for Joseph Esposito, Demos candidate, as the two kidnaped men were espousing the cause of Chris Mamer, Thompson candidate.

Trouble in Eighteenth Ward.

Hubert McCabe, precinct captain for James Fleming in the Eighteenth ward, was kidnaped from in front of the Twenty-sixth precinct polling place at 1854 West Adams street by six men in an automobile. He jumped from the machine and escaped a block farther on.

William Nathan, a precinct committeeman for Homer Galpin, was seized by five armed men at Polk and Robey streets, thrown into an automobile, beaten up, and later released.

Arrests were numerous. An auto driven under Lieut. Michael Hughes took four men in the Nineteenth ward. Chief of these was Dan Hartnett, a police character for years, who was taken on the charge of James Savage that Hartnett rang his doorbell at 438 South Throop street and fired a shot at him.

Taken As Suspects.

William ("Bully Goat") Taglia, ("Buster") Brown, and John Phillips, all declared to have police records, were taken in a new automobile in the Nineteenth ward on the suspicion that they had participated in kidnappings of Mamer workers.

John L. Real of 3226 Clifton avenue, Clarence Faucet of 3224 Lowe avenue, William Kelly of 3745 Lowe avenue, and Bernard Rowe of 323 Normal boulevard were arrested at Thirty-second and Wall streets, charged with assaulting William Brandt, 3221 South Racine avenue, a Finucane worker in the Fourth ward.

Meyer Cossman, a Galpin worker, was taken in the Eighteenth ward, charged with carrying liquor to the "Y. M. C. A." precinct at Monroe street and Ashland avenue. The police of the Desplaines street station also sought four men said by John E. Egan, Galpin worker, to have driven officials from the Forty-sixth precinct polling place.

Judge Denies Charges.

Judge Anton T. Zeman of the Circuit court was reported to be working in the Fifty-fifth precinct of this ward, instructing voters that they could vote the Republican ticket. Election officials were sent out to investigate. He reported that he had not given any such advice. The officials left orders that those who had voted in the Democratic primary within the last two years should not vote this Republican ticket.

WOMEN'S VOTES ONLY FOURTH OF NORMAL TOTAL

Strenuous Efforts Fail to Make Big Showing.

Thousands of women working in behalf of Gov. Lowden, Gen. Wood, and Senator Johnson, aided by the intense interest aroused by the Lowden-Wood fight, were able to get out only about one-fourth of the normal feminine Republican vote of Chicago and Cook county in the presidential preference primary yesterday.

The women cast a total of $7,830 ballots, according to complete unofficial returns. Gen. Wood received 18,364, Gov. Lowden 14,099, and Senator Johnson 5,865. The ratio of the vote of the men to that of the women for Wood and Lowden was approximately five to one, while for Senator Johnson it was nearly seven to one. This indicated to some analysts that the women workers busy making desperate efforts to get out the feminine vote. Women were stationed at nearly every one of the 2,200 precincts, there were groups operating a chain of automobiles to carry the voters to the polls, and others used the telephone to spur reluctant ones to go and cast their ballots.

Mrs. Fletcher Dobyns, in charge of the women's division of the Lowden campaign, said that the women workers busy making desperate efforts to get out the feminine vote. Women were stationed at nearly every one of the 2,200 precincts, there were groups operating a chain of automobiles to carry the voters to the polls, and others used the telephone to spur reluctant ones to go and cast their ballots.

Mrs. Dobyns also reported every county in the state organized on the same systematic plan. That her efforts were not rewarded by a heavier total she attributed to the varied orders that were issued regarding the right of the women to vote in the presidential primary and the opinion many gained that it was little more than a "straw" vote, inasmuch as the delegates would not be legally bound to support the candidate receiving the popular vote.

Wood Forces Small.

Mrs. Joseph F. Nachbaur, state chairman of the women's division of the Wood campaign, and Miss Harriet Vittum, Chicago manager, expressed general satisfaction with the results they attained with a comparatively small corps of workers. They reported not more than 150 women engaged in getting out the Wood vote, but declared they were most effective.

Both Lowden and Wood women reported considerable roughness by men at the polling places, but only one complaint was made to the board of election commissioners. That was from the Twenty-fifth precinct of the Fifth ward, polling place at 3463 Archer avenue, where men were reported crowded about the door, bothering the Lowden Easy State Victor.

Gov. Lowden had a runaway race downstate. Incomplete returns from eighty-five counties gave him 13,625 votes of women, while Gen. Wood received only 5,606. In not one of these counties did Wood have the lead, although in Kane he came closest; here thirty-six precincts in sixty-eight gave him 82 and Lowden 84.

JOY UNCONFINED AS MAYOR GETS VICTORY'S NEWS

Office Thronged as Returns Are Received.

It was unconfined joy for four hours on the fifth floor of the city hall last night. Mayor Thompson was receiving congratulations on "the great victory ever."

Upwards of 5,000 persons, it was estimated, jammed through the three rooms of the mayor's office, offering their congratulations on "the great victory ever."

It began about 7 o'clock, when Charles E. Peace, the mayor's winning committee chairman in the Twenty-first ward, led a delegation to the mayor's office. The inner doors, which are hard for the public to penetrate as a rule, gave way and from then on the congratulations held sway.

Jazz Band Is Busy.

In one corner a five piece jazz orchestra tore off peppy tunes, interspersed with boost Chicago songs by a song plunger.

In his inner office sat the mayor, comfortable in a soft collar, and radiating good will over his glass topped table littered with election returns. At the mayor's right Corporation Counsel Ettelson and Attorney Chester Cleveland kept tab on the returns. When every ward was accounted for and Mr. Ettelson had announced thirty-four Thompson victories with a plurality of 70,000 for the mayor's candidacy, the mayor was willing to talk.

People to Be Trusted.

"There isn't much to say," he said. "The returns tell the story; they speak for themselves. It only convinces me that the people can be trusted. They always vote right when they understand the issues fully."

"I congratulate the people and the city of Chicago."

Then the orgy of handshaking went on. In came Eugene Pike, former city controller, and the mayor's Twenty-first ward stand-by.

"Here's the cause of all this," said the mayor, shaking Pike's hand. "He got me into politics."

Then came others, ward leaders, precinct captains, some white, some colored, some with horny fists and others with soft hands, but all with the same tale to tell. Many of them carried cards with their precinct votes on them.

"There is the best one yet," said the mayor when a 250 pound colored worker from the Second ward had reported that he had carried his precinct, 196 to 10. "That's results for you."

Orders Door Opened.

Outside the orchestra tore the air. Some one closed the door and the mayor shouted:

"Open that door. Let the music and the public in."

The mayor was proud that there were so many city employees in the crowd. Firemen, clerks, and policemen were numerous.

"And then some people say that the city employees aren't with Thompson," he said.

There was a report that the clerks, who recently went on strike, had been told that they expected aid in their salary increase demands from the mayor. Hundreds of the mayor's pledge cards were circulated at a recent meeting of the clerks' union.

Silent on Presidency.

Asked for a comment on Wood's victory over Lowden in Cook county, Mayor Thompson maintained his neutrality on that question.

"I refer you to election returns. They speak for themselves," was his answer to all such inquiries.

WOOD MANAGERS JOYFUL AT THE SHOWING HE MADE

Capt. Marshall Field, manager of the local Wood campaign, declared the general carried thirty-four of Chicago's thirty-five wards, losing the Twenty-sixth to Johnson.

"With the enormous vote secured by Gen. Wood in Cook county the delegates should feel bound to support him if popular government means anything," Field said.

Wood carried Field's precinct—the Seventeenth of the Twenty-first ward. The vote was Wood, 127; Lowden, 82, and Johnson, 4. Capt. Field and wife left to spend a month at Palm Beach.

"The vote for Lowden was a complimentary vote. It was a vote in recognition of his having been a good governor," Nathan William MacChesney, state manager, said. "This being so, we believe that in addition to those who voted for him we can count on the support of the many unwavering friends of Wood when the convention gets down to serious business."

Harriet E. Vittum said the women's department of the Wood headquarters is jubilant over the Wood showing.

Try New Loading Scheme

The surface lines will try an experiment on the Wabash lines. At present passengers are permitted to board only after the cars have rounded the Garland loop into Randolph street. Traffic at this point is heavy and great difficulty is experienced in getting to the cars.

Monroe street is established tentatively as the point at which the northbound journey in Wabash avenue terminates. Passengers who want to go south may board these cars while they are still northbound at Monroe, Madison, or Washington streets, and upon the payment of their fares will be given transfers punched "south" only.

If this experiment works, the loading area will be similarly extended on other lines.

California Uncle Ben's Only Leaves Laborer $7,000,000

Hagerstown, Md., April 13.—Gabriel Shipley, lock tender on the C. and O. canal near here, has received word from a Probate court in California that he and his five children are heirs to $7,000,000 from an estate of $22,000,000, left by a cousin, who went west in 1849.

A sister, Mrs. Cyrus Davis, of Williamsport, also shares in the bequest.

Charges "Kick" Socialists Received Was "Borrowed"

Albany, N. Y., April 13.—[Special.]—Large quantities of liquor, supplied by Mark Daly, lobbyist for upstate manufacturing interests, were used during the all night debate on the resolutions to expel the Socialist assemblymen to put the assemblymen in a frame of mind for expulsion, according to a statement made by Senator George F. Thompson of Niagara during the debate in the senate today on three of the Luak committee's "Americanization" bills, all of which were passed.

MOVES TO QUASH DIVORCE GIVEN TO MISS PICKFORD

Los Angeles, Cal., April 13.—[Special.]—Charging "fraud, perjury, conspiracy, and collusion" in the Mary Pickford-Owen Moore divorce case, Attorney General Leonard B. Fowler will move on Thursday in the District court at Minden, Nev., a suit on behalf of the state demanding that the decree of divorce be set aside and declared void.

PAPER ALLEGES BAVARIAN PLOT TO MISS PICKFORD TO MISS PICKFORD

GENEVA, April 13.—The Munich Post, a Socialist organ, has created a sensation in Bavaria by publishing the report of a recent meeting of the Bavarian junker party, which was attended by most of the military officers.

The meeting was presided over by Herr von Schoch, president of the Patriotic league. The principal questions discussed related to the division of Germany into two parts and the proposed overtures to be made to France to join in an attack on Prussia.

Capt. Berthold says the Munich Post objected to the proposals, saying that the Bavarian generals would suffer the fate of Admiral Kolchak and Gen. Denikin, the Russian anti-Bolshevik leaders. He added that another war with France was inevitable in the near future and that therefore Germany should remain solid.

Several officers and politicians supported this view.

The newspaper says a declaration was made that the Bavarian Gen. von Escherich has under his command unofficially 300,000 officers and men "quite faithful to the Kaiser."

"WHISKY REVOLT" CASE NOT PUSHED BY DALRYMPLE

Marquette, Mich., April 13.—[Special.]—Deputy sheriffs and representatives of private detective agencies are endeavoring to connect James R. Huirt, "man of many wives," with a series of robberies and safe cracking jobs.

But Mrs. Elizabeth L. Williamson Lewis of Sacramento, it is said, will rise to defend him while the other "wives" may assist the prosecution.

Officers attempting to clear the disappearance of five of Huirt's "wives" could not be found. The body of a woman was found in a ravine near Martinez, Cal., some months ago, shortly after the time Huirt is believed to have been operating in that vicinity.

An attempt is being made to identify the body as that of Mrs. Alice M. Ludvigson of Seattle.

Huirt, under arrest as "Walter Andrew Watson," is being guarded by deputy sheriffs in a hospital, where he is recovering from wounds inflicted in two attempts at suicide.

HONOLULU, T. H., April 13.—[Special.]—The German outposts and customs authorities on the Swiss frontier have received orders for the arrest of Ignatius Lincolin, former member of the British parliament and whose British certificate of naturalization was revoked in 1919.

Lincolin, it is said, is accused of robbery and spying. It is believed here to be doubtful if he will attempt to cross the border, as he could be extradited from Switzerland on a charge of robbery.

WASHINGTON NEWS —IN BRIEF—

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Washington Bureau of The Tribune.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 13.—President Wilson moved today to deal with the menacing situation brought about by the railway strikes.

He called a cabinet meeting for tomorrow morning and announced the appointment of a special committee to deal with the situation.

The members of which will be confirmed by the senate tomorrow. The board will have its headquarters in Chicago.

With four Democrats voting in the negative, the house adopted a resolution reported from the McKenzie subcommittee of the war investigating committee requesting the attorney general to institute criminal and civil proceedings against army camp contractors.

In order that the parcel post may be used to a greater extent during the railroad strike Representative Randall of California today introduced a resolution providing for the condemnation by the postmaster general and inter-state commerce commission of the availability of increasing the present weight and measurement maximum.

MARTIN J. GILLEN of Racine, Wis., was today appointed by President Wilson to be a member of the shipping board, succeeding Henry M. Robinson of California.

CARRANZA ARMY RACES TO SONORA MOUNTAIN PASS

Both Sides Ready for Desperate Battles.

Nogales, Sonora, April 13.—Sonora officials tonight were preparing to meet an expected invasion of federal troops which reached Juarez tonight on their way to the new republic. Gen. Carlos Plank, second in command to Gen. P. Elias Calles, left today for Agua Prieta, where Carranza troops are expected to strike their first blow.

An ultimatum was telegraphed state officials today by Gen. Manuel M. Diez, commander for northern Mexico, notifying them that he would invade Sonora with sufficient forces to put down the rebellion. Tonight's information that 800 troops had arrived at Juarez, therefore, caused no surprise.

Fortify Sierra Pass.

Plans for meeting the invasion included the fortifying of Pulpito pass, through which the federal troops must pass to reach Sonora from Casa Grande. It will be several days before the federal cover the 200 miles over the mountainous country.

Agua Prieta reports said Gen. J. M. Pino was fortifying that city opposite Douglas, Ariz.

Officials of the Southern Pacific today ordered their tracks across the international boundary line put out of commission.

Americans Ask Troops.

Residents of Douglas, Bisbee, and this city tonight wired urgent appeals to Arizona senators and representatives for federal troop reinforcements, as clashes between the Mexican forces are feared along the border. There is no artillery and few infantry or cavalry units in Arizona, the appeals say.

In a statement issued today by Gov. de la Huerta he emphasized the fact that Sonora was in a transitional stage and that whether it maintained its independence would depend upon the course used by Carranza.

Other States Loyal, Claim.

El Paso, Tex., April 13.—The Mexican consulate here has been advised officially, it announced today, that President Carranza has received telegrams from the governors of Tamaulipas, Sinaloa, Jalisco and Guanajuato that they are in full accord with the central government.

Gen. Manuel Gamboa, commander of the federal troops in Sonora, has been deserted by his command, and has fled to Nogales, Ariz., for protection, according to private advices.

U. S. Attache Sees Colby.

Washington, D. C., April 13.—George T. Sumnerlin, American chargé at Mexico City, who was summoned home recently, discussed the Mexican situation today with state department officials.

CABRERA HOLDS REBELS IN TRAP IN GUATEMALA

Guatemala City, April 13.—Troops supporting Carlos Herrera, proclaimed president after a swift revolution, are holding this city, although it is closely besieged by the army commanded by President Estrada Cabrera. Shots from these troops have fallen in many parts of the town.

Herrera's forces hold the principal railroad leading to the city, and reports indicate the revolution has spread over the most of the interior.

Mondell Thinks Congress Will Adjourn June 5

Washington, D. C., April 13.—After a conference today with Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Representative Mondell of Wyoming, the Republican leader in the house, said he believed congress would adjourn June 5. All appropriations measures will be ready for approval by May 15, he said, and other important pending legislation will be disposed of by June 1.

Will Consider in Secret Bill to Regulate Packers

Washington, D. C., April 13.—[Special.]—Regulatory legislation on the packing industry will be considered by the house committee on agriculture in executive session next Monday, Representative Haugen of Iowa, chairman of the committee, announced today.

MARS NEAREST EARTH APRIL 23; TO TRY SIGNALS

Expert Will Rise 50,000 Feet to "Flag Planet."

Omaha, Neb., April 13.—A Leo Stevens, balloon expert at Fort Omaha, announced today that the effort of Prof. David Todd of Amherst college to signal Mars from Stevens' balloon will be made on April 23. Pilot Stevens expects to reach an altitude of 50,000 feet.

Prof. Todd, in a telegram received by Lieut. Col. Jacob Wuest, commander of Fort Omaha, today suggested next week for the proposed flight because the planet Mars will then be nearest the earth.

Prof. Todd made brief reference to the apparatus which he will use to ascertain whether sound waves of other disturbances are coming from the planet, and if

WILSON SELECTS BOARD TO END RAIL STRIKE

Cabinet to Outline Plan for Settlement.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., April 23.—(Special.)—With the outlying railway strike still seriously interfering with transportation in the east and middle west and depleting food reserves of many cities, President Wilson moved today to deal with the menacing situation. He called a meeting of his cabinet for tomorrow forenoon to consider government measures to end the strike and restore normal transportation. Mr. Wilson announced the appointment of the railway labor board, created by the new transportation act, upon which will devolve the responsibility of endeavoring to compose the dispute between the strikers and the railroads.

President's Board.

The president's appointees to this board follow:

Representing the public—George W. W. Hanger, Washington, D. C., member of the Newland case board of railway mediation and conciliation, appointed for two years; Henry Hunt, former mayor of Cincinnati and former Ohio assemblyman—captain in national army during war—appointed for one year; R. M. Barton, former judge of the Tennessee Court of Appeals, appointed for three years.

Representing the railroads—Horace Baker, former general manager of the Cincinnati, New Orleans & Texas Pacific railroad, appointed for three years; J. H. Elliott of Texas, former general manager of the Texas & Pacific railroad—colonel in the transportation corps of the A. E. F.—appointed for two years; William L. Park of Chicago, vice president of the Chicago Great Western railroad; appointed for one year.

Representing the employees—Albert Phillips, vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, appointed for three years; A. O. Wharton of Missouri, official of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor, appointed for two years; James J. Forrester, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Steamship Clerks, Freight Handlers, Express and Station Employees, appointed for one year.

Men Return to Work.

The first effect of the appointment of the board was felt in Washington. Striking employees in the Potomac freight yards and at the passenger terminal here decided tonight to return to work at midnight, leaving their demands to the labor board for adjustment. The decision of the men was reached at a mass meeting attended by representatives of the affected railroads and officers of the brotherhoods at which assurances were given by the railway representatives that the status of men who walked out would not be impaired.

W. N. Doak, vice president of the

ON R. R. WAGE BOARD

Members of New Body to Fix Compensation for Railway Operatives.

WILLIAM L. PARK

HENRY HUNT

ALBERT PHILLIPS, J. J. FORRESTER.

Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, urged the men to submit their grievances to the newly created board, telling them he had been assured at the White House that prompt action looking to an adjustment would be taken.

"Open to No Criticism."

The president transmitted the appointments to the senate, by which they must be confirmed, and Chairman Cummings immediately called a meeting of the interstate commerce committee to consider the nominations. None of the members of the committee possessed any information concerning the qualifications of the appointees, but one of the senators reported that Chairman Clark of the interstate commerce commission pronounced the selections open to no criticism.

The committee thereupon postponed consideration of the appointments until tomorrow. It is probable the nominations will be confirmed by the senate within the next twenty-four hours. As soon as the board, which is to have headquarters in Chicago, is constituted, it will have original jurisdiction of the dispute and will be empowered to institute an inquiry into the grievances of the strikers.

Mr. Wilson will meet with his cabinet tomorrow for the first time since the meeting preceding his speaking tour from which he returned a sick man.

390 Reds Ordered Exiled by Department of Labor

Washington, D. C., April 23.—Department of 390 of the 3,000 persons arrested in the radical raids made by the department of justice has been ordered by the department of labor. A review issued by the department today said 1,323 of the cases finally had been disposed of, with 933 dismissals ordered.

U. S. UNLOCKS ITS STOREHOUSES TO HIT FOOD CRISIS

Profiteer Warning Is Also Issued.

Washington, D. C., April 23.—(Special.)—The department of justice and the war department both came to the assistance of the public today in the food crisis due to the strike.

The war department released for public consumption its surplus food stores in populous centers, including Chicago, and the department of justice urged all district attorneys to curb profiteering that might arise as a result of the strike enforced food shortage.

Stocks Offered for Sale.

The surplus stocks of meat were offered for sale to states or municipal authorities, community buying associations, or to recognized distributors of food products.

Fixed prices were quoted on the commodities embraced in the offering, and both the canned and frozen beef were made available in sufficiently small purchasing units to permit dealers and small communities to take advantage of the offer.

Attorney General Palmer issued a warning to dealers against taking advantage of the strike crisis to boost prices.

COAL SUPPLY IN DANGER.

Chicago fuel dealers predicted last night that the first real effects of the switchmen's strike would be felt by Friday. Fifty per cent of the yards have no coal at all and the greater part of the other 50 per cent have little. The normal consumption in the Chicago switching district is about 40,000 tons a day. Coal is arriving at the rate of 10,000 tons a day. Because switchmen in the southern Illinois coal mining districts have joined the strike it is believed this supply will be further decreased. In addition, most Illinois coal shipments have been diverted to the southern states, where the need has been very great.

State Street Is Hurt.

The State street department stores will have to suspend operation by the end of the week unless more coal comes in, according to the Consumers' company, which supplies most of them. The shut down of industrial plants may become general, too. It is estimated that 100,000 persons have been laid off already on account of the strike.

Milwaukee Trainmen Refuse to Hear Rebel Chief

Milwaukee, Wis., April 23.—Efforts to have John Grunau, head of the Chicago Yardmen's association, to address members of Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen Lodge No. 456, were blocked tonight when a motion to throw the meeting open and permit Grunau's address was ruled out of order.

WHAT STRIKE DOES TO CITIES

The effects of the "outlaw" rail strike on the industrial life of many cities of the United States and their surrounding territory continue.

Boston, Mass.—New England food shipments, passenger traffic and freight delayed by strike in adjoining states.

Albany, N. Y.—Nearly 5,000 freight cars in yards; 200 switchmen quit.

Baltimore, Md.—Only food essentials for human beings will be handled by the Baltimore and Ohio east of Ohio river, and then only by special arrangements.

Trenton, N. J.—City faces food shortage; nearly 2,000 more men have joined strikers, who now number about 3,500, including men at two shops in Hamilton township.

Syracuse, N. Y.—Striking railroad men resumed work in the yards of the New York Central.

Cleveland, O.—Passenger, milk, and mail trains moving; freight tied up; more men quit at Collinwood shops.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Passenger service on Pittsburgh and Lake Erie is to be resumed; men vote to return. Pennsylvania railroad passenger crews stay on job. Milk, mail and food trains practically only freight moved.

Uniontown, Pa.—Thirty-five thousand men in industrial district laid off because of rail strike.

Huntington, W. Va.—In eastern Kentucky 450 men went out; freight tied up.

Columbus, O.—Prices rising; 100,000 mine and factory workers laid off throughout state; auto owners asked by mayor here to save fuel for trucks.

Seranton, Pa.—Many mines closed; Lackawanna strikers only will run milk and mail trains.

Toledo, O.—United States Judge Killits directed seizure of 40 cars of coal daily for industrial use, lighting, heating, traction; hotels, hospitals short of coal.

Cincinnati, O.—Only 410 men out here; strike seems failure.

Bay City, Mich.—Relying on new United States wage board, 150 men here called off strike.

Ludington, Mich.—Thirty-five striking switchmen in local Pere Marquette yards returned to work.

Savanna, Ill.—Between 150 and 200 switchmen quit here.

St. Louis, Mo.—Railroad officials believe yardmen's strike in this district "virtually has collapsed."

Kansas City, Mo.—Railroad officials report work in yards is about a fifth of normal.

El Paso, Tex.—"Until necessary to discontinue such service," striking switchmen here will not call out passenger crews, they said. Seventy-five men are out on the Southern Pacific railroad here.

Fort Worth, Tex.—No cattle arrived here.

Salt Lake City, Utah—Almost 4,000 miners out of work for lack of cars.

San Francisco, Cal.—Freight tied up here; at Los Angeles Southern Pacific engineers and firemen refused to take out trains made up by "loyal" switchmen.

Spokane, Wash.—Ninety-six Northern Pacific switchmen in this vicinity refused to go on strike.

Ex-Empress of Germany Visits New Home at Doorn

AMSTERDAM, April 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—Former Empress Augusta Victoria made a trip to Doorn yesterday and inspected the new residence being built for herself and the former kaiser. Although Augusta Victoria has been troubled with a heart ailment for many months, it is stated her condition is not considered immediately serious.

HARVARD FILLS HIGGINSON PLACE

Cambridge, Mass., April 23.—(Special.)—James Byrne, a classmate of President A. Lawrence Lowell, 77, a New York lawyer, has been elected a fellow of Harvard university to replace the late Maj. Henry Lee Higginson. Mr. Byrne is said to be the first Catholic to be a member of the Harvard corporation, which, with the board of overseers, runs the university. Mr. Byrne is president of the Harvard Alumni association, a trustee of the College of the City of New York, and a regent of the University of the State of New York.

Pershing Assails Strike; Kisses an Old Friend

Baltimore, Md., April 23.—Gen. Pershing addressing the Merchants and Manufacturers' association, said: "We cannot as a people stand for interference by a class of our population with the vital interests of the whole public, and we do not propose to tolerate this interference." When he visited Camp Holabird, Gen. Pershing met, for the first time in fifteen years, Mrs. Harvey D. Middleton of Roland Park. The general kissed Mrs. Middleton on the cheek. "I have known her," he said, "for twenty-five years. She attended my wedding. I was a lieutenant when we began our acquaintance, and," he smiled, "we thought a great deal of each other."

RAILROADS LEAVE REBELS TO FATE; MOVE TRAFFIC

Chicago Yards' Activity
Hits High Mark.

The railroads concentrated every effort yesterday to move freight stalled by the switchmen's strike.

Last night railroads and brotherhoods generally had discarded their previous attitude—that the men would return to work voluntarily. They had adopted a new slogan, "Move the cars."

At headquarters of the Chicago Yardsmen's association the same adamant attitude toward a return to work prevailed. One new development, however, was apparent. Committees from the brotherhoods and the railroads visited homes of idle switchmen and urged wives and sweethearts to bring their husbands back into the railroad fold.

These efforts were ridiculed at strike headquarters.

More Traffic Moves.

Railway managers admitted reports that no great number of strikers were returning to work. They claimed, however, and strikers did not deny the claims, that more cars were being moved than since the walkout began. This was explained, they said, by an influx of workers from outside points, who had elected to "stick" with the brotherhoods; because all officials available had been impressed into duty, and likewise because numerous new men had been hired by the roads.

Federal action in the local strike became a remote possibility yesterday when District Attorney Charles F. Byrne denied that he had issued an ultimatum to the strikers, or that any action was planned by his office. Reports that an "army" of secret service investigators were working among the strikers also were contradicted.

Attacks Palmer's Statement.

President John Grunwald of the Chicago Yardsmen's association assailed statements by Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer that the strikers were led by I. W. W.

"That assertion is either presidential propaganda for Mr. Palmer or is due to misrepresentation to him by his agents," he declared. "Any one who has watched the progress of the walkout here will scout such a charge. Even the brotherhoods have not attempted to make it."

This man Bedell, who it is claimed, is the I. W. W. leader in charge of the strike is unknown to us.

Would Prevent Trouble.

"I understand that railroad detectives intend to start violence if possible. At the first sign of it, however, the strikers will arrest the trouble makers."

"We shall conduct this campaign peacefully. We have refrained from picketing or interfering in any way with the railroads, and we will continue to do so."

In the daily "communique" issued by the railroads claims were made that 60 per cent of the switch engines normally in use were operating. A check by THE TRIBUNE disclosed that not over 35 per cent were actually moving cars.

"At the meeting I addressed today I found the engineers favored returning to work," said Edward Corrigan, a grand lodge officer of the R. of L. E. "I think the wage board has been set. Within twenty-four hours, all engineers should be on the job."

"The men became impatient at the delay in granting an increase in pay. Some would-be leaders tried to stir up strife. Now that the wage board has been appointed by the president I anticipate the walkout will end."

Claims of railway managers that the movement of live stock had improved were not confirmed by stockyard officials, who declared that only 235 cars were received yesterday, as compared with 246 the day before.

Little Interest in Board.

The appointment of the board, at first looked upon as an avenue of settlement of the strike, created little interest among strike leaders.

Embargoes on freight were lifted by at least eight roads in Chicago.

The coal situation became more serious. Food prices were reported advancing.

Beginning today, it was predicted in both railroad and strikers' headquarters, the battle will be a lingering affair. It is prophesied the railroads will in the end return to normal operation by employing new men or transferring B. R. T. members to switching jobs.

It is not believed, however, any great percentage of the striking switchmen will return to work at the present wages. They prefer rather to secure positions in other trades at higher money, they claim.

100,000 JOBLESS
IN DETROIT DUE TO RAIL STRIKE

Detroit, Mich., April 13.—[Special.]—After a survey of sixty-four of this city's largest industrial plants, it was announced that 100,000 are idle because of the switchmen's strike.

In the plants listed 65,812 men out of 137,568 on the most recent pay rolls are out of work. George W. Grant, secretary of the Employers' association, said these figures indicate a total of 100,000 laid off in Detroit.

Plants laying off men today are: Northway Motors, 1,500; Hipp Motor company, 1,200; Maxwell-Chalmers, 1,100; Great Lakes Engineering company, 500; Detroit Steel Products company, 1,200; Ford Blast Furnace, 4,000; Fordson Tractor company, 2,800.

U. S. Yard Strike Felt on Railroads in Canada

London, Ont., April 13.—Railroad strikes in the United States caused cancellation of forty freight trains and idleness of many trainmen in Ontario today, as embargoes made the runs useless. Thirty freight trains were canceled on the London division of the Grand Trunk and ten on the same division of the Canadian Pacific.

WOOD CANCELS LEAVE TO HELP WIND UP STRIKE

Labor Is Attacked by Reds, He Says.

Boston, Mass., April 13.—[Special.]—Gen. Leonard Wood today cancelled the leave of absence which he obtained to make a campaign for the Republican nomination for president, and left for Chicago tonight to resume his duties as commanding general of the central department. He stated that his action was due to railroad strike conditions.

Gen. Wood announced his plans to leave at a breakfast given him at the Boston City club.

"The situation of growing seriousness in the country is such that I feel it my duty to give up my leave and to return to my post of command in Chicago," he said. "The situation is not one which allows personal considerations to enter into the matter in the least."

Cancels Speaking Dates.

"It was the intention of Gen. Wood to speak in several places in Massachusetts, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Delaware, and Pennsylvania within the next week. He cancelled all of these engagements."

In discussing the railroad men's strike, Gen. Wood said:

"You are confronted now with an open and shut proposition: you cannot pussy-foot it or sidestep it much longer. You find that organized labor has been stable, conservative; but is now being attacked from within. So far as we can see ordered labor is now undergoing a strike from the radical element within itself, and it is a pretty well organized attack."

Opposed to One Big Union.

"It looks like the one big union idea. There is no one big union idea going to go over in this country. This country is going to be run by Americans, cost what it may. No class legislation, no autocracy, either of wealth, labor, or power, but a real democracy and a spirit of cooperation and helpfulness is the need."

"I have had to bump into some rather ugly strike situations in the middle west, and wherever there has been radicalism and trouble in the dangerous situation I have always found the alien rods in control, very seldom an American leader. We want to get rid of the alien leader, the professional agitator."

Acted on Own Initiative.

Washington, D. C., April 13.—[Special.]—Gen. Leonard Wood's decision to cancel his leave of absence and return to the command of the central department was made on his own initiative, it was said today at the war department.

YANKEE DE MOTT
KILLED TRYING TO FLEE GERMANS

BERLIN, April 13.—An official announcement made last night in the case of Paul Rome DeMott of Paterson, N. J., said to have been an American citizen, who was killed recently at Wesel, near the Ruhr region, states that he was shot dead while attempting to escape from military arrest.

DeMott, who was 22 years old, was taken prisoner by government troops southeast of Wesel, early last week charged with being in possession of arms and aiding in the rebellion.

DeMott is said here to have claimed he was a newspaper man, who was given an American passport because he was engaged in relief work.

U. S. Steps Into Rail Strike to Keep Hospital Supplied

Tucson, Ariz., April 13.—The government intervened today in the switchmen's strike situation at Tucson to get supplies for disabled soldiers at the government hospital at Fort Pastime park. The Southern Pacific was ordered to have a special train ready to leave the Tucson yards at 1 o'clock today to proceed to Wilcox, seven miles east, to bring in a car of gasoline needed for the lighting and power plant at the hospital.

RAIL DEPARTMENT OF A. F. OF L. CONDEMNNS STRIKE OF OUTLAWS

Kansas City, Mo., April 13.—By resolutions adopted late tonight the biennial convention of the railway department of the American Federation of Labor condemned the "insurgent" switchmen's strike and urged all members of its affiliated organizations to refuse to support the walkout in any way.

The convention, which represents 700,000 members in eight railroad crafts, also endorsed President Wilson's appointments to the labor board on behalf of labor, and declared their belief that labor could confidently expect justice through the law creating the board and safely leave their grievances to the board.

STRIKERS TOTAL WITH UNIONS AND
"PENNSY'S" CHIEF

Philadelphia, Pa., April 13.—The Pennsylvania railroad company tonight agreed to a proposition made by the board of mediation and arbitration of the state department of labor and industry to have the railroad's general manager meet representatives of the strikers, provided that they can speak for all the men who are not working, and that representatives of the brotherhoods shall also be permitted to be present.

The proposition was made by William J. Tracy, chief of the bureau, and was accepted by W. W. Atterbury, vice president in charge of operation.

Mr. Atterbury suggested that the state mediator use his good offices to have the strikers return to work and leave the whole matter to the railroad labor board appointed by the president.

MINERS IGNORE COURT CALL AS STRIKE SPREADS

Fourteen Fail to Answer
Summons.

Pittsburg, Kans., April 13.—Fourteen of the seventeen officials and members of district No. 14, United Mine Workers, summoned to testify today before the Kansas Industrial Relations court, failed to appear.

Announcement was made tonight that bench warrants for their arrest would be issued tomorrow by District Judge A. J. Curran, who last Friday sent Alexander M. Howat, president of the district union, and three other officials to jail for contempt of court for refusing to testify before the industrial tribunal.

The strike of the district miners approached the 100 per cent idleness today, the official report of the coal operators' association listing eighty-nine mines as idle. Five shovels and four deep mines were in operation and six shovels with crews operated in the district mines.

Seven Railroad Arrests.

Kansas City, Mo., April 13.—Three additional arrests of striking switchmen charged with violating the Industrial court law were made in Kansas City, Kas., today at the instance of Richard J. Hopkins, attorney general of Kansas. Seven men are now under arrest.

Sheriff to Be Prosecuted.

Quater proceedings are to be brought in the Kansas supreme court against both Sheriff G. C. Webb of Crawford county and his deputy, Charles Wright, for permitting Alexander Howat, head of the Kansas miners, to address a crowd from the balcony of the jail at Girard yesterday, in which Howat defied the governor and the industrial relations court.

STRIKERS VOTE TO "CARRY ON" N. Y. BLOCKADE

Present Radical Demands
as Food Runs Short.

New York, April 13.—[Special.]—Outlaw railroad strikers, meeting in Jersey City, tonight unanimously voted to continue the strike. The proposal of brotherhood representatives that the men return to work and allow all matters in dispute to be settled by the railroad wage board nominated by President Wilson, was rejected.

The proposal was framed at a meeting held in the city by invitation of Mayor Hague, and attended by representatives of the trainmen's, engineers', and firemen's brotherhoods and fourteen representatives of the strikers.

The strikers will resume negotiations with the brotherhood this morning, with Mayor Hylan of New York and Health Commissioner Copeland present. The committee reported that the strikers are "considering" the question of moving foodstuffs and made public their revised demands.

Here's List of Demands.

These include vacations for all with full pay; elimination of all day, week, and monthly ratings and the payment of all on an hourly basis; elimination of physical tests for new employees; twenty-six days' work a month for all men assigned to places, and the furnishing of other work to men developing color blindness at the former rates of pay.

Additional passenger trains were cancelled by some of the railroads during the day and freight service was so badly crippled only a few cars of foodstuffs were moved into the city. No perishable freight was moving.

After Gov. Edwards at Trenton had telegraphed President Wilson to approve the arbitration of the strike by the newly created labor board he telegraphed the governors of New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, California, Massachusetts, and Connecticut tonight to join in an effort to settle the strike.

First Important Break.

The first important break in the outlaw railroad strike which presages relief from the critical situation confronting New York City, came today when the yard and switchmen of the New York, New Haven and Hartford returned to work. This and the improved schedules in New Jersey have restored commutation service to about 90 per cent normal.

More than 700,000 automobiles, ranging from roadsters to huge trucks, with their drivers, can be mobilized at short notice to transport provisions from supply centers to Manhattan, the National Chamber of Commerce announced this evening. Trucks carrying supplies are on their way from Philadelphia, Boston, and points as far away as 250 miles.

Trawlers Bringing Seafood.

Steam trawlers brought fish from the Georges banks direct, instead of via Boston or Gloucester.

At Glen Ridge, N. J., the American legion post and militia reserve have tendered their services as strikebreakers on trains or trolleys. At a mass-meeting the war veterans said they would be glad to have the strikers try to interfere with them.

"Indignation specials" manned by amateur firemen who drove up to the suburban stations in limousines, reached the Jersey terminals with cheers from the passengers drowning out the whistles of the trains. College and professional men have volunteered to act in any capacity to help the situation.

Chicago Food Arriving.

The New York Central announced 100 cars of provisions from Chicago were brought into the city and unloaded today. Milk trains were running outbound, officials said, to return empty cans. Little food, otherwise, is arriving.

With prices soaring as the result of the food shortage, Chief Riley of the department of justice's "flying squadron," issued instructions to men to arrest "on the spot" any one making excessive charges for food.

SCREEN STAR HURT

Former Leading Woman for Charlie Chaplin Victim of Auto Crash.

EDNA PURVIANCE.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 13.—[Special.]—Edna Purviance, former leading woman for Charlie Chaplin, was seriously injured today when the automobile in which she was riding was struck by another machine.

Miss Purviance was the only person injured. She sustained a deep laceration on the right side of her face, extending from the nose to the cheek. The injury, it is said, may end her career as a screen star.

The accident was a spectacular one. Miss Purviance was sitting in the front seat of an automobile driven by C. M. Greer, said to be a wealthy horseman of New York City. The two were returning from Santa Barbara when a machine operated by an unidentified Negro dashed across the street intersection and struck Greer's car. The big automobile was turned around several times and badly damaged. Miss Purviance was struck by flying glass.

BOY, 12, KILLED BY AUTO.

John P. Phillips, 12, 737 South Loomis street, a pupil of the Jackson public school, died in the Columbus extension hospital yesterday of injuries inflicted by an automobile truck owned and driven by John Deschamps, 1214 West Harrison street. The boy was playing ball at Lyle street and Madison place when the auto hit him.

"TIGER TAMER'S" SON NO TIGER, LETTER SHOWS

Writes "I Have Not Courage to Enlist."

Palm Beach, Fla., April 13.—[Special.]—Richard Croker gave out a letter written him by his son, Richard Jr., on May 3, 1918. The elder Croker in answering charges made by the children in their suit had said that both his boys were slackers during the war, that when the situation was becoming desperate overseas he wrote Richard the war had gone far enough without his sons getting into it and got back a letter which made him sick. The last paragraph read:

"In conclusion, let me tell you of Howard, whom you have called a slacker. Because he must support his family and also because he is now recovering from a painful accident to his eye with which he met about four months ago while working on some machinery in his factory, he is not in a position to offer his services to the government. As far as I am concerned I guess I have not the courage to enlist. (Signed) Rich."

Indian: Not Prisoner.

The subject of Mrs. Richard Croker's Indian parentage is authoritatively discussed by a former chief of her tribe, the Cherokees, in his affidavit filed today. The chieftain is F. H. Mayes of Mayes county, Okla. Her father is a full blooded white man and her mother of one-eighth degree Cherokee blood, and Mrs. Croker is one-sixteenth a Cherokee Indian, and is so enrolled in the official rolls of the Cherokee nation.

DAUGHTER "WITH FATHER."

[Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.] (Copyright: 1920.)

LONDON, April 13.—Mr. J. Morris, son-in-law of Richard Croker, discussed the suit brought against the ex-Tammany leader by his sons. Mrs. Morris, who was Miss Florence Croker, was away from home. Her husband said:

"You may certainly say my wife is generally sympathetic with her father. Mrs. Morris went to see her father last year in Ireland and from what my wife told me after her return it never occurred to her that her father was falling mentally or that his wife's influences over him was anything other than a wife's should be."

ST. LOUIS LACKS 227,000 TO MAKE MILLION PEOPLE

Civic Leaders Declare the Showing "Pitiable."

Washington D. C., April 13.—St. Louis, fourth city of the country in 1910, had a population of 773,000 on Jan. 1 this year, and showed an increase of 35,971, or 12.5 per cent over ten years ago.

Dispatches from St. Louis say city officials and civic leaders refer to the growth as "pitiable." The claim has been made that the city would hit the million mark.

THE SOLDIER BONUS.

In other editorials discussing the soldier's bonus we expressed the hope that the American Legion would not press the demand upon the government. We hoped that the uninjured veterans would take their crown of wild oaks and not make demands for money which would develop more opposition in congress to universal military training.

We wanted the veterans to help get universal training for the nation. Conditions have changed now. Congress will not give the nation a new military policy. Congressmen who are successful in opposing it say they expect the trained men to go to the front again if they are needed.

If cynical brutality such as this is to prevail we are for the soldiers getting all they can. While they were at war a great many civilians made a great deal of money. Wages went up, prices went up, some people made money hand over fist, and almost every one who had a chance to profiteer did so.

The taxes for a soldier bonus will ride some of the people a little harder, but a nation which is indifferent to its soldiers as this nation is, in every particular which would be humanity to them when they are in their greatest danger, ought to be ridden hard by taxes.

If every one else is grabbing money and is indifferent to national interests, we see no reason why the soldier, who served his country, should keep his hands out of the game.

So long as it was possible to argue to the soldiers that if they did not press their demands the nation might spend the money in preparing, so that they would not have to do again what they had done, and so that their sons would not have to do it, it was possible to ask them to renounce their personal profit for the country's advantage.

It is not possible to make that argument any more. Congress will not do anything effective for the country's defense. When we fight another war it will be in the same wasteful fashion we fought the recent one. More men will be killed and wounded than need be. Money will be wasted because it will be spent hurriedly. Half trained men will not know how to take care of themselves and their half trained officers will not know how to spare them.

If a war comes within the next fifteen years there will be a demand that the A. E. F. return and take the first punishment, which will be the same old unnecessary punishment to which American soldiers always have been subjected.

The country does not care. If it were not indifferent or hostile to a good military policy congress could not be indifferent and hostile. A nation which can be so stupid and cruel ought to pay.

SECESSION IN MEXICO.

The secession of the state of Sonora from the Mexican republic, if made good, would be the most important event in Mexican history since the establishment of Porfirio Diaz's rule. For it is not likely the secessionist movement would confine itself to one state, although the claim that thirteen states are already committed to it needs considerable corroboration.

Sonora and Lower California have been, in fact, independent districts for several years, and their position is strong strategically. Their economic interest, if Mexican politics in this region were to take economic factors into account, are with the United States rather than with central Mexico. This is also true of Nuevo Leon and Coahuila to the east, but Carranza came from the latter state, and unless sentiment has changed it would not seem likely that the secessionists will find much support there. Chihuahua has been apparently firmly attached to the Carranza government. Tamaulipas, on the other hand, is divided, and under the military control of Pelayo, who holds himself quite independent of federal authority.

An independent republic in the northwest, consisting of Sonora and Lower California, might in the present condition of Mexican politics be able to establish itself, for a military campaign to overthrow the revolt would be a costly and hazardous adventure if the people of the northwest are sufficiently determined.

What the future of such a state would be is, of course, a matter of guesswork. One of the chief probabilities would be its eventual absorption by the United States, especially if the government were favorable to the development of a region, a process for which our capital and enterprise are needed. Perhaps the prohibition issue would have some influence on this result. Anti-prohibition sentiment would certainly oppose annexation while favoring independence under an American protectorate.

In any case, the penetration of northern Mexico from the north seems inevitable. It will not be a deliberate process, but it is all the more certain for that fact, since it will take place in obedience to laws more powerful than reasoned statecraft. A people like the American, growing constantly cannot live next door to a region such as Mexico without running over into it.

BODIES OF U. S. SOLDIERS.

Bodies of eighty-seven American soldiers who died in England have reached New York. A transport from France is bringing 315 others. Two hundred flag-draped coffins are at Brest awaiting carriage to America.

The throbbing of a mother's heart at the thought of her son lying in alien soil is at once sacred and understood. She wants to stand beside the mound holding the baby she clasped to her bosom in the years long dead. Kneeling within her room and pressing her lips against a pair of little, wrinkled shoes, she prays that the grave over the edge of the world shall give up her treasure and let her bury it with flowers in her own graveyard plot.

The compressed lips of a father as he thinks of the lad sleeping quietly beyond the ocean betray an anguish that constricts our hearts.

All this we recognize and we stand bareheaded before the stark pity of it. But we do not believe that these nearest of kin quite realize what the proposition involves. The graves of those who died in hospitals or in camps far from the firing line offer no difficulty in identification, disinterment, and return. But a grave on the battlefield is not always an individual thing. Long trenches contain the unidentified and sometimes mangled bodies that were buried in the dark and hurriedly. The elements, the hour's confusion, perhaps another shell, may have obliterated such markings as were placed above them. Frequently the only trace of a dead soldier is on the roll call: Killed in action, Argonne forest, Sept. 30, 1918. So large a percentage of our heroic dead can never be absolutely identified that it seems a hopeless task to bring them all back and deliver them into the keeping of their rightful claimants.

Knowing beyond all question that France and the American commission will guard our cemeteries there, and realizing that even with the most careful handling awful mistakes will occur, fathers and mothers, we believe, will shoulder this cross as they have so many others and not disturb the couch of those who went to sleep in war that they might sleep in peace.

EASY COME EASY GO, WITHOUT A BUDGET.

We have set the world an example in the ease with which approximately $1,000,000,000 has been collected in income taxes. But we continue to show the world a poor example in the slovenliness with which we disburse our money.

We gather up taxes in spoons and scatter it with scotchpebbles. We have a competent way of getting money. We have a most incompetent way of disbursing it. We have one way of collecting; a dozen ways of spending.

The staggering total of money now being collected ought to teach us that a budget system should not be delayed. The spending of public money is being brought home to the individual. The income tax is a direct lien on the individual purse. The individual will want to know what is being done with his money so readily paid over.

A graphic chart of the present system of disbursing government money is almost too baffling for written description. There are ten regular government departments and one grouping of the independent establishments. This means that eleven estimates of departmental expenditures must be reported to the secretary of the treasury.

But what of it? The secretary of the treasury has no power to revise estimates. Neither he nor the president assumes responsibility. The secretary of the treasury can only transmit the estimates to the house of representatives. The house distributes the estimates among nine congressional committees. These committees frame as many appropriation bills as seem necessary and these are sent back to the house for action. There is no coordination as between committees and no coordination as between the departments. There is no central bureau of departmental estimate to cooperate with a central committee having charge of all appropriations. The system is one of "fire at will."

Under a budget system the estimates would be sent to the budget officer. It would be his duty to classify, coordinate, and revise. The finding of the budget officer would be submitted to the president for his approval and then sent to the house committee on budget. This committee would have full power, subject to the control of the whole house. Special and standing committees could be formed. Appropriations would be distributed from a central point.

Without a budget system we lack responsibility. With a budget we would be able to put responsibility squarely where it belongs. Pork barrel appropriations could not pass without coming under the scrutiny of responsible officials. Needless expense could be traced directly to the appropriations committee.

The enormous amount of our government expenditures makes it imperative that we reform our method of appropriation and expenditure. Budget reform is not a romantic subject, but it concerns every citizen and affects the whole efficiency of our rapidly expanding government activities. Senator McCormick's comprehensive plan for a budget system, just reported favorably to the senate by a unanimous vote of the committee which has been studying budget problems for months, brings up for congressional action one of the most important and immediate of its responsibilities. In the house a similar study has been made by a committee of which Representative Good is chairman, and it is hoped the result of these efforts will be the establishment of a thorough going system which will save a great deal of money and also secure a better application of the money appropriated to public uses.

Concession to tradition, official prestige, or political perquisites should not be made at the cost of the public purse and government efficiency. The best system possible should be insisted upon.

Editorial of the Day

NEWSPAPERS CREATE BETTER FEELING.

By an arrangement of law, postage on newspapers under the zone system constantly advanced. If a patron of The Capital wished to send this newspaper to a friend in the state of Washington for one year the postage would be $4.50. This is a prohibitive rate. It is, to use a common phrase, more than the traffic can bear. It means that Iowa daily newspapers will have no subscribers in the state of Washington. It also means that Iowa citizens cannot take a daily paper printed in Portland, Ore. This is a bad thing for the newspapers and a bad thing for the public. Patriotism is built up and the country is harmonized by a free exchange of newspapers. If, before the civil war, there had been newspapers circulating in South Carolina from a state like Wisconsin there would have been a healthier feeling in the two localities, one for the other.

The zone system of postage is working in opposition to the government, in a way. The government is spending millions in printing speeches, pamphlets, etc. The agricultural department alone is spending millions in an effort to give information to the public. This is a strange contrast. The government, by an excessive postage rate, suppresses the spread of intelligence and then is compelled to spend other millions for the spread of intelligence.

Finally, slightly revamped, it came to find a permanent home in Redfield. To-day it is still in use, and although the museum of history and the Smithsonian institute have made flattering offers for it, owing to the fact it has as a relic, they have not been able to move it from its.

MARINES WE FORGOT.

Washington, D. C., April 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—Commissioned officers in the military or naval service during the war will not benefit under soldier relief legislation now being drafted, it was learned today. The tentative agreement reached by a house ways and means subcommittee also excludes yeomanettes, shipyard workers who were in the army or navy but who received civilian wages, and former service men who had their salaries paid by their employers while in the service.

Final agreement on the rate of compensation to other service men and women is expected to be reached this week, and the bill as finally presented to the house, it is understood, will be a composite measure, carrying provisions for home building aid, extension of training and priority in land settlement.

Those not desiring to take advantage of these provisions will receive adjusted compensation at the rate of $1 a day. This payment is said to be the maximum amount which can be expected, the committee having abandoned the later proposal of the American Legion to pay $1.50 compensation.

Means of raising necessary revenues have not been decided upon. But Republican members of the committee are understood to favor the imposition of a flat tax not exceeding one percent on all sales, while Representative Henry T. Rainey of Illinois, a minority member of the committee, favors placing additional taxes on war profits.

NOT THE CITY'S ALLY.

Chicago, April 10.—[To the Friend of the People.]—The unruly ally running north and south between Calumet and Prairie avenues is full of holes and runs from Fifty-third to Fifty-fourth street—especially at the Fifty-fourth street end.

Water stands in the ruts and holes sometimes indefinitely. Some time ago in your column I read a complaint about cinders being dumped in the vacant lot further down on Prairie avenue which had formerly been occupied by a school. We would welcome the cinders in our ally. Is there any way we can get the cinders that our wayward neighbors object to? S. S. N.

In the block bounded by Calumet and Prairie, Fifty-third and Fifty-fourth streets, there is a vacant lot. The lot is a foot strip used as an alley is owned by the South Side Elevated Railroad. So far they have raised no objection to travel under their structure, and undoubtedly will not, since the space is not used by them. However, any improvement on this property will have to be done with their consent.

"A DISTORTION."

Chicago, April 9.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Your editorial on "New York Is Blocking Traffic" is a distortion of the facts. You say of New York taking "toll of all freight passing through that port or to or from the west." New York is not the only port on the Atlantic. Goods from the west for export go through Portland, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk, the Virginia ports, Mobile, New Orleans, and Galveston, as well as New York; to many of these ports the inland rates on export freight, and on import freight as well, are lower than the rates in effect to New York. Through rates to foreign ports are not as high as via New York, yet New York continues to "take toll on freight from the west," as you express it.

One of the reasons why New York retains its supremacy is that the great trans-Atlantic liners make their terminus there. Insurance rates are lower via New York on these great ocean liners than can be obtained on freight steamers. Deliveries to the other side are quicker and the opportunities for mean delivery far more frequent. High class freight will seek New York.

BRITISH SHAKE FRENCH HANDS AND ALL IS WELL

Crisis Over and Harmony
Is Watchword.

BY EDWIN L. JAMES.
(Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.)
(Copyright: 1920.)

PARIS, April 13.—Premier Millerand announced to the French chamber this afternoon that the Franco-British incident was closed.

The settlement commits the British government anew to the enforcement of the treaty, especially the disarmament of Germany clauses which particularly affect France.

The French government agrees to a slight extension of permission to the German government to maintain a limited number of troops in the neutral zone. As soon as supplementary troops shall have been withdrawn by Berlin, French troops will quit Frankfurt, Darmstadt, Hanau, Homburg, and Dieburg.

Regarding As French Victory.
The French government regards the outcome as a victory although it backs down technically somewhat in agreeing to evacuate Frankfurt before all the German troops are withdrawn from the neutral zone, yet it is pointed out that it has gained assurance of enforcement of disarmament clauses of the treaty, for the enforcement of which the Rhine move was undertaken.

Although it has not been announced, I am able to state that the inter-allied commission of control has recommended that the August protocol permitting Germans to have 17,000 troops in Ruhr and which expired on April 13 be extended one month. The Germans asked for three months extension. It may be taken for granted that this recommendation will be adopted by the main allied governments.

SAID CRISIS IS OVER
BY JOHN STERLE.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(By Special Cable.)

LONDON, April 13.—The Anglo-French crisis now is ended. Lord Derby has received assurances from Premier Millerand that the French will withdraw immediately the German troops from the Ruhr to 15,000, which they are permitted to retain under the protocol of August last, now extended from April 13 pending a discussion at San Remo between Mr. Lloyd George and M. Millerand.

Also a few questions of detail are remaining for settlement in San Remo. The foreign office learns peace has been restored throughout Germany, except in the south, where the Bavarians fear a new outbreak from labor unrest and desire to keep the reichswehr.

Criticism Allies' Action.
BERLIN, April 12.—[By the Associated Press.]—The national assembly reopened today. The proceedings began with a strong protest from President Fehrenbach against the allied commission in preventing the upper Silesian deputies from attending the assembly. Herr Fehrenbach denounced the entire for this "encroachment on the rights of the German people's representatives."

Premier Mueller then read from manuscript a speech, the delivery of which required ninety minutes. At the outset it emphatically echoed Herr Fehrenbach's protest.

The premier spoke strongly against the action of the French in the Rhine region, saying "Sengalesse are quarrelsome in Frankfurt and are guarding Goethe's house."

Ruhr Troubles Explained.
Then, reviewing the events in the Ruhr region, he said that in the confusion following the Kapp uprising the Ruhr workers were unable to recognize whether they were faced by loyal or disloyal troops.

"This atmosphere of distrust," he added, "was exploited by Communist wire pullers, and instead of an impressive workers' movement there gradually came into existence a 'Red' army."

"The organized workers returned to the mines and factories, but the deluded champions of soviet dictatorship remained in arms and were joined by the rabble of the Ruhr area, whose only desire was to exploit lawlessness."

"This was the situation when the German government gave permission to the troops to march into the neutral zone, where almost the entire population was crying for relief from terrorism."

Belgians Going to Frankfurt.
COBLENZ, April 13.—A battalion of Belgians, the first contingent of Belgian troops for the reinforcement of the French in the Frankfurt area of occupation, will pass through Coblenz tomorrow on its way to Mayence, reaching here at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Fifteen hundred reichswehr troops who were defeated southeast of Dueseldorf during the first week of the Ruhr revolution were released from internment at Cologne today and will be sent back into the unoccupied territory, according to a report received by the Rhineland commission this evening.

POLES DEFEAT BOLSHIEVSKI

WARSAW, April 13.—A pronounced victory for the Poles over the bolsheviks on the southeastern front was reported by the general staff today. After several days' fighting a bolshevik division was put to flight and more than a score of machine guns, with much booty, were captured by the Poles. In rejecting further discussions regarding Borisov, on the Beresina river northeast of Minsk, as the place for the proposed peace negotiations of Poland and Russia, the Russian soviet government has sent a wireless message saying it considered the last note of the Poles in the nature of an ultimatum.

The message reiterates that the bolsheviks are ready to accept any neutral town and suggests the possibility of holding the peace conference in Paris or London.

REICHSWEHR ON RAMPAGE, KILL 26, WOUND TWO

ESSEN, April 13.—[By the Associated Press.]—Twenty-six persons were killed and two seriously wounded by members of the Reichswehr, who got beyond control of their officers last Wednesday in the district between Botrop, Essen, and Mulheim, according to a statement by Col. Von Baumbach, commanding the Reichswehr.

The commander added that an investigation was being made and that the guilty would be punished.

The troops were incensed, Von Baumbach said, by reports that the Red army had mistreated prisoners and also by the abolition of military tribunals by orders of the Berlin authorities.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 13.—[By the Associated Press.]—Turkish military officers today formally closed the chamber of deputies under an order from the sultan which provides for the election of a new chamber within four months. The sultan's edict says that "political reasons make the dissolution of parliament necessary."

The chamber really dissolved itself. The question of religious authority in Islam is raised by move and counter move on the part of the ministry of religion in the sultan's government in Constantinople and that of the Nationalist government at Angora.

The Sheikh-ul-Islam at Constantinople has appealed to all Moslems, urging them to a holy war upon the Nationalists. In reply to this, the Nationalist Sheikh-ul-Islam has issued a religious decree denouncing the sultan and discrediting the Constantinople appeal.

Reichswehr Extends Area.
Belgians have not moved across the bridge but the reichswehr continues to extend its zone of occupation. The interior's amnesty proclamation has resulted in thousands of workingmen returning to Essen where immediately a majority were arrested, beaten and killed. Several were shot without trial by the reichswehr. Headquarters of the workers' central council now is in Barmen. Ludwig, Ernst, Duwell, Stern and Eckhardt, Communist leaders declared the reichswehr must quit the industrial zone. They said the one defeat had not killed the workers' movement, but had only encouraged them to try again and that they were embittered more than ever against militarism and the monarchist reichswehr. Asked for an opinion of the French occupation they replied:

"Germany soon will realize it was the government's breach of faith with us that brought this about."

Suffer from Terrorism.
Michael Pinte swears his wife, Mary, a Red Cross nurse, was shot at Pulikun after she and two others were maltreated.

In Haltern sixty-five canal workers were fired on with machine guns. They fled into barges, whereupon the reichswehr hurled hand grenades on the barges, killing all the fugitives.

The reichswehr killed eight workmen from the Wolfbank coal mine. In Sterkrade, nearby, Wilhelm Kulke, a Red Cross nurse, was arrested, beaten, violated by twelve reichswehr, stripped, and left for dead. She recovered. Near Dorsten a number of Red troops were captured and shot without trial.

SULTAN'S TROOPS, UNDER BRITISH, TO FIGHT TURKS

Sublime Porte Will Crush Rebels.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(By Special Cable.)

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 13.—[By the Associated Press.]—Orders soon will be issued for a strong military campaign by the Turks against the nationalist movement.

Mobilization probably will begin before May 1. British officers and Nafieh Pasha, chief of staff of the Turkish army, estimate it is necessary to place 150,000 Turks under arms. They will be supplied by the British and will receive assistance in the field from certain branches of the British service.

Ahmed Anhever, who commands the operations against the Nationalists, has been made pasha by the sultan, and been appointed governor of the Kerasai district.

New Election Ordered.
CONSTANTINOPLE, April 13.—[By the Associated Press.]—Turkish military officers today formally closed the chamber of deputies under an order from the sultan which provides for the election of a new chamber within four months. The sultan's edict says that "political reasons make the dissolution of parliament necessary."

The chamber really dissolved itself. The question of religious authority in Islam is raised by move and counter move on the part of the ministry of religion in the sultan's government in Constantinople and that of the Nationalist government at Angora.

The Sheikh-ul-Islam at Constantinople has appealed to all Moslems, urging them to a holy war upon the Nationalists. In reply to this, the Nationalist Sheikh-ul-Islam has issued a religious decree denouncing the sultan and discrediting the Constantinople appeal.

OF FRENCH BOAT

QUEENSTOWN, April 13.—[The French cruiser Somme was reported in a wireless today to be in distress in latitude 44.48 north and longitude 26.40 west. The American steamer Kearney and the British Russia were racing to it. The weather was bad, the rescuing craft reported.]

Reichswehr Extends Area.
Belgians have not moved across the bridge but the reichswehr continues to extend its zone of occupation. The interior's amnesty proclamation has resulted in thousands of workingmen returning to Essen where immediately a majority were arrested, beaten and killed. Several were shot without trial by the reichswehr. Headquarters of the workers' central council now is in Barmen. Ludwig, Ernst, Duwell, Stern and Eckhardt, Communist leaders declared the reichswehr must quit the industrial zone. They said the one defeat had not killed the workers' movement, but had only encouraged them to try again and that they were embittered more than ever against militarism and the monarchist reichswehr. Asked for an opinion of the French occupation they replied:

"Germany soon will realize it was the government's breach of faith with us that brought this about."

FANS OF REDLAND SEE COLD OPENER FOR CUBS-REDS

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Cincinnati, O., April 13.—[Special.]—

Redland folks went to bed tonight with leaden hearts, for only a climatic miracle can furnish weather conditions tomorrow suitable for the inauguration of the National League championship season, although President Herrmann of the Reds declares the game with the Cubs will be played even if it is necessary to use snowshoes and ear muffs.

All Nager for Fray.

Only a native can appreciate what this means to Cincinnati, which has not yet recovered entirely from celebrating its first major league world's pennant and where even an ordinary baseball opening always has been the event of the year.

It is a civic institution to which all the "Who's who's" and all who hoped or expected to be "Who's" have looked forward every spring with the same eagerness that the small boy does to the advent of the circus.

Many who never afterward went to the ball park bid frantically for seats to the first game, and this year the supply of tickets was exhausted long before the spring training trip started. And then to have the weather go back on them so despicably this year of all years!

Cubs Get Hour of Practice.

Chicago's Cubs, who landed here last night, managed to get an hour's work on the bare spots at Redland field to warm them up for the first scrap with the world champions. It was chilling work, but the players comforted themselves with the fact it was the first time they ever came to Cincinnati and did not find it too warm for comfort.

Manager Mitchell called his men out for practice because they already had spent two days without looking at a baseball. All his men reported in shape with the exception of Merkle, who will not be able to play for a week or so yet, and Robertson, who did not return from his business trip to Virginia. Even if Dave comes in time for tomorrow's battle he may not be in the fray, as he hasn't swung a bat for more than a week.

Barber to Play First.

Turner Barber has been definitely assigned to Merkle's place on first and Paskert probably will fill Robby's territory in the outfield. The rest of the regulars will be there with bells on and also the new "Unies" which Coach Dolan successfully smuggled through the lines of the strikers last night.

Alexander the Great will pitch, of course, and equally of course Will Killefer will catch for the Cubs. Pat Moran has picked Dutch Ruether and Ivy Wingo for his opening battery, and Jake Daubert, the only cripple on the Red roster, has announced his determination to cover first base.

Leah Leaves to Join Giants.

Fred (King) Leah, the Cubs eminent pianist, left tonight for New York to join the Giants. Leah had been asked by the Chicago club and McGraw claimed Leah at the waiver price.

VOX POP ON MARTINS.

CHICAGO.—[To the Editor.]—I their reception, and go back for the balance of the bunch. Yours truly, EDWARD P. PRICKETT.

[Editor's note.—Our notebook shows our first sight of purple martins on April 8, 1915. We were fishing, although the gins froze to the reel, and noticed martins, tree swallows, and barn swallows flying over the lake feeding. Investigation showed that a hatch was on of tiny, fleshy insects which trout fishermen would call "green midges," and these were what attracted the birds. Our notebook shows the average first appearance of martins as May 2, although some years we could not get out as early or as often as we wished. No doubt those who have martin houses see these birds before the ordinary observers. Our records of first appearances are probably imperfect, but they are the only ones we have available.]

My colony has grown until now I have two houses, which accommodate forty-four pairs, and my houses are nearly always filled. I have watched the habits of these birds for the twenty-five years that I have had them on my place, and I have a record of the first arrivals for a number of years during that period. This record shows that the scout martins, the small advance guard, usually arrive about from April 6 to 10, and I have one record that shows their arrival on March 31.

Two scout martins appeared at my place this year on April 2, and have been there, intermittently, since. If we have warmer weather the next few days I have no doubt that five or six pairs will appear, and the whole bunch will undoubtedly be here by April 20, judging from my past experience.

The scout martins come to their houses before there is any food supply, and probably fly south 100 miles or so for their food during the day, but always come back to the house at night. The advance guard evidently come to see if the houses are O. K. for

WEATHER FORECAST.
Fair, with little change in temperature.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.
There still were a few shovelfuls of snow in Comiskey park when the sun went down last night, but unless the weather man does another eccentric stunt the 1920 baseball season will be opened at the south side today at 3 o'clock with the White Sox combating Detroit's Tigers, and there will be more frills and pomp and pop and popcorn than the national pastime has seen since the days before the war.

Apparently, all that is needed to make a record opening is some warm breezes, and the weather man, who has been acting foolish this spring, has half way promised to settle down and get serious, and remember that spring is with us. If he goes through with it, it will be a big day. There will be thousands present regardless of the fact the two bit seats have gone to $4 cents, and it costs a dollar to sit where one formerly sat for 75 cents. An extra quarter means nothing to a 1920 fan.

Players Are Fit.
The diamond was too wet yesterday for any practice, but with the help of old Sol, a squad of groundkeepers, and a couple barrels of gasoline it can be fitted up to perfection. Barring any more rain or another blizzard, there will be no trouble along those lines.

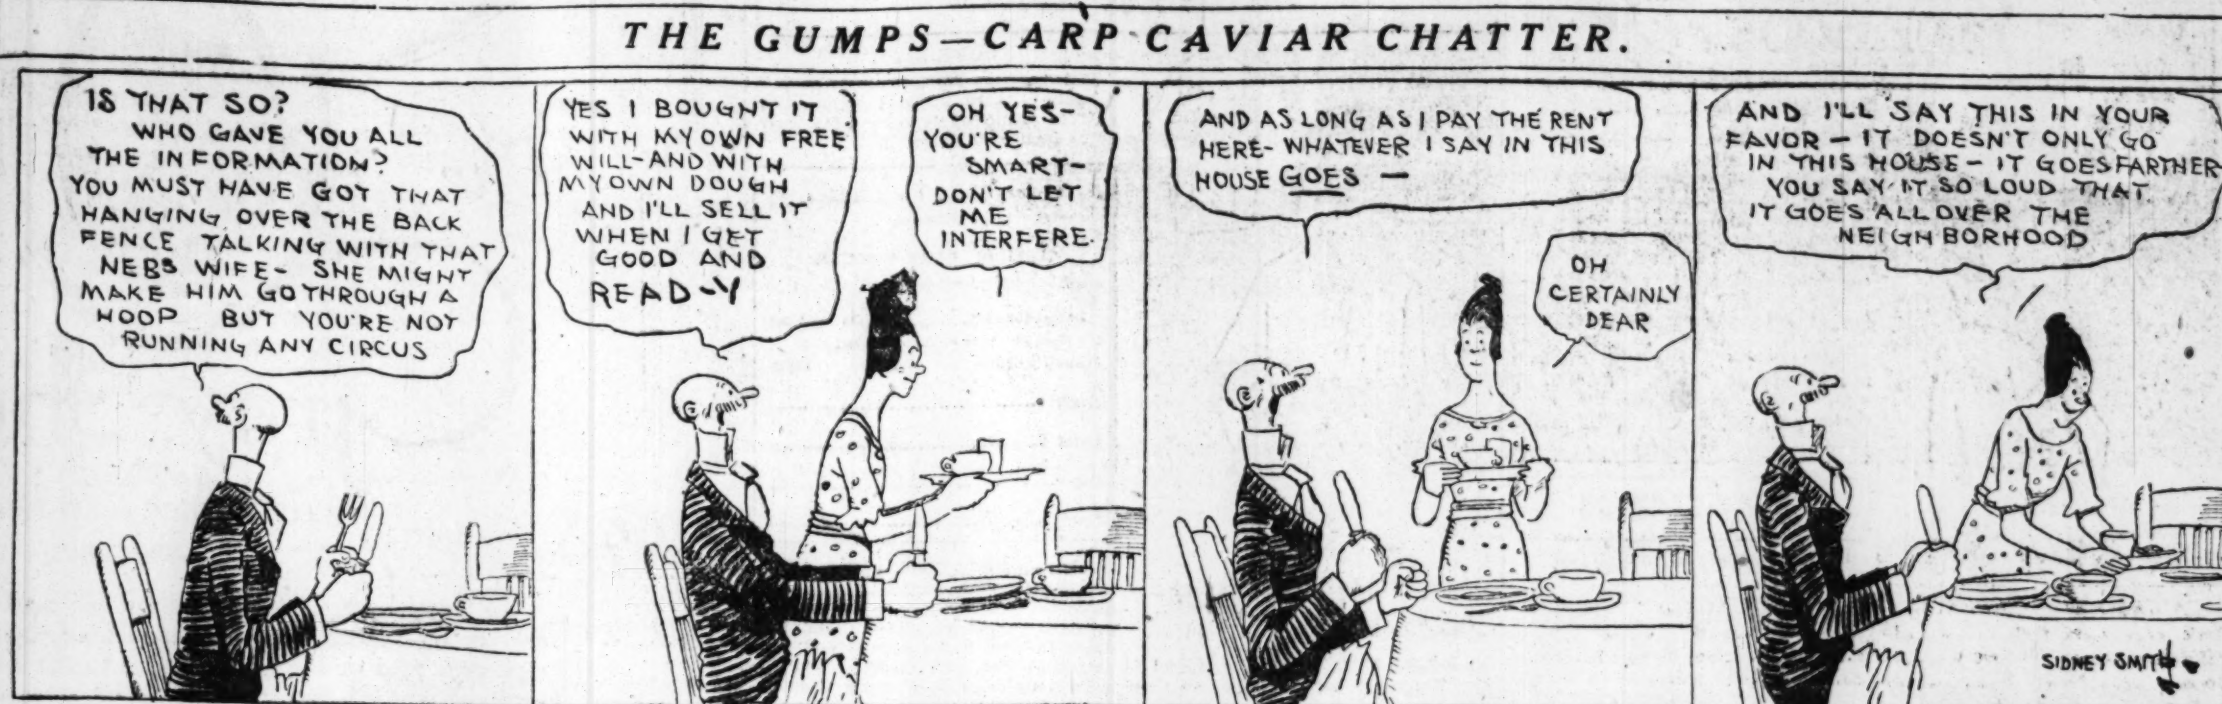

The White Sox team is fit for a regular combat. It took a final workout yesterday on the grass in the outfield. A half dozen or more pitchers are eager for the first assignment. The 1919 regular champions, with the exception of first baseman, will be in the contest. The Tigers were the city, and a few of them went to the park and imbered up. They are looking for

RAY SCHALK.
Ted to big things, and expect to start day with big things in mind.

Louis Comiskey, who passes out the treatments, piled up his corn poppers, but was undecided last night whether to make a spread on ice cream cones and cold soda pop, or whether to go heavy on the hot dogs and corn.

Williams Likely to Pitch.
It looks as if Claude Williams will draw the assignment for the slab, and situations are he will be opposed by the veteran, George Daus. Neither Manager Gleason of the locals nor Manager Jennings of the Tigers would announce a definite choice. Eddie Cicotte might be on the rubber. The Sox and Bernie Boland might hurl for Detroit.

But Williams, with his southpaw benders, has often been able to stop the slugging of both Cobb and Veach, and, as he is in good trim, he is the probable man for Chicago. Daus is one of the wise birds of the American league in artistic fabling, and he, too, is primed for a battle. Ted Jordan is the only new player on either team, Ted. It will be remembered, was utility man on the Sox in 1917, after which he went to war and then returned to baseball, performing for Minneapolis last year. He still is only a lad in the game, but seems ready now for the big stuff. He may not have the finish and precision that marked the playing of Chick Gandil, who has gone, but there is a chance that he will become great before the season is half over.

Tigers Out for Pennant.
Jennings' bunch hasn't been so enthusiastic over a pennant in years as they are this spring. They trained in the "corn belt" of Georgia, coming out in fine condition, and a long series of games against the Boston Braves on the tour north has tended to fit them for the hardships of a season. Any player who can stand the trials of a barnstorming trip ought to be able to shine in an ordinary baseball season.

TEN SPITTERS OF A. L. START LAST YEAR ERE SLAB, TOO, GOES ARID

New York, April 13.—Only ten American league pitchers are eligible to use the "spit ball" during the 1920 season, President B. B. Johnson announced today. Cleveland has nominated Coveleskie and Caldwell; Chicago, Cicotte and Faber; Detroit, Leonard and Ayers; St. Louis, Shocker and Gallia; New York, Quinn; and Boston, Russell.

Profanity on the baseball fields will not be tolerated in the American association this season, President Hickey told his staff of umpires at a conference here yesterday preliminary to the opening of the season today. The umpires were instructed to order any player or manager off the field at the first offense and to report subsequent violations to President Hickey.

White Sox well wishers, looking for another pennant, will be inclined to inspect closely Ted Jordan, who will be stationed at Chick Gandil's old station. U. S. CHAMPS VS. VARDON-RAY IS OLYMPIA'S PLAN

BY JOE DAVIS.

Olympia Fields, the club of big things, is planning to stage one of the biggest matches of the year. Through Phil Gaudin of the Skokie club, who is booking dates for Harry Vardon and Edward Ray, Olympia Fields has offered a purse of $2,000 for a match between the British players and Walter Hagen, national open champion, and Jim Barnes, western title holder.

The club suggests that $1,200 go to the winners and $800 to the losers. The date proposed is immediately following the western open championship at Olympia.

Send Vardon Invitation.

A letter already has been sent to Vardon advising him of the proposition. Should the match be consummated it will be held under auspices of the Western Golf association.

A number of local players who will compete in the open event at West Baden Springs next week will leave Sunday night, which will give them two days' practice over the hill top course.

Club Changes Name.

The Austin Golf club last night, changed its name to the Columbus Park Golf club, and elected the following officers:

President, John J. Samuels; vice president, T. J. Leonard; treasurer, Dr. W. G. Wendell; secretary, N. A. Pagan; directors, Paul Burnett, Homer J. Ross (3 years), F. Kewer, L. S. Beck (3 years); C. E. Pingree, C. J. Miller (one year).

A report received from the west parks board stated it was probable the course at Columbus park would not be ready until late in the season.

By Mae Tinee.
Nothing to it—we should send some of our producers to Sweden! There they might learn to present a simple story convincingly.

You'll agree, I'm sure, after you see "The Woman He Chose." Its other name was "The Girl from the Marshcroft" and it is taken from the story by Dr. Selma Lagerlöf, who is the only woman awarded the Nobel prize for literature. Why the name was changed I can't imagine. However, the picture remains the same. And it is a great picture.

There isn't a really pretty woman nor a handsome man in the cast. The lead himself is cast on an angular and somewhat stolid lines. But what on earth does beauty matter when a woman by the mere lifting of her eyes or the tightening of her lips can grip your heart, or a man by his handshake give you courage? In this picture the emotions of a simple people are bared with stark simplicity by players who never once truckle to cheap chicanism to gain a point.

The story, briefly summarized, is of a Swedish girl who, deceived by a false ceremony, brings a child into the world. The child's father, an influential man in the community, steadfastly denies her claims. The broken-hearted parents of Helga compel her to go to court.

The big dramatic moment in the picture comes when the betrayer is about to swear on the Bible that he is guiltless. Helga, until this moment, a bowed and inarticulate figure of shame, looks up in time to see his hand as it lies on the holy book. For a moment she stares in frozen horror. Then like a flash she is upon him and the book, wrested from his hands, is clapped to her bosom. She turns to the magistrate and all fear and shame have left her. She is magnificent.

"He is the father of my child," she says, "but rather than see him swear his soul away I will be called a wanton. I will withdraw my case."

And she does. But her act has changed the current of feeling against her to one of warm regard.

"I am proud to have met you!" So Helga takes up life, working bravely and cheerfully for herself and her nameless baby, securing employment in the homes of people who are big enough to overlook the shadow that is over her. And she is chosen at last by the man she loves. Scenery and settings are a delight and the photography is fine. They do show the subtleties too long, however, and you are charged 83 cents admission.

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondence.)—The May suit is apt to look much like the May pole if the craze for ribbons continues. These are used in various ways. In the above suit of sand colored Poiret twill the ribbons are made of oil cloth in self color and they appear not only in the odd little loops which punctuate the jacket, but as a binding for the three tiers of the front section of the skirt. The high collar cut in one with the coat is good just at present. In fact, all high collars, particularly the wired medial one, are used on many spring frocks, suits, and wraps.

EARLY FLOWERS

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

If you wish early flowers it is not necessary to wait until all of the hazards pass and it is warm outdoors before you plant them. Start the plants now and you will be several weeks ahead of those who wait until it is safe to plant in flower beds in the open.

There are many of the richly colored flowers, including asters, sweet alyssum, phlox, lobelia, and petunias that may be safely started now. All of these flowers usually are raised from seeds sown indoors during April and frequently as early as the last of March. Of course they are kept indoors, where they can be protected from the cold and the frosts during this month.

They usually are started in greenhouses, hotbeds, and cold frames, but this is not necessary for where such artificially heated places are not available the sun parlor or a south exposed window may be used successfully.

Pans, shallow boxes, and pots, even cigar boxes, may be used to sow the seed in. The seedlings should be transplanted, of course, to flats or boxes later.

Fill the pan or box with a mixture of pulverized leaf mould, rich garden loam and sand. The soil should be fine and thoroughly mixed. Remove all stones, pebbles, cinders, and any other coarse material. The soil must be drained well so water will not stand in the box. Regardless of the kind of vessel used, either box or pan, holes should be punched in the bottom to allow free drainage.

The seeds of all the flowers mentioned above can be sown on the surface and covered by pressing the soil with a smooth board. Do not sow the seed too thick. As soon as the seedlings are large enough to be handled conveniently, they should be transplanted.

Bright Sayings of Children

Bert asked his grandpa for a job and was told he could throw down hay for the horses. For this chore he had always received a nickel; but as the candy bar he was in the habit of buying had advanced in price, he coolly informed his grandpa that he would have to have a raise in wages. "How much?" asked grandpa, amused.

"O," replied the little laborer, "enough to keep up with the high cost of candy."

George insisted on calling his small brother a girl. One day after being corrected a number of times he said, "Well, I guess we can call him 'til her wears pants.'"

The Tribune will pay $1 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Please write on side of the paper. Address Bright Sayings to Auntie Bee, Tribune, Chicago.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

WINIFRED: I DO THINK IN a case like yours it would be wise for you to put yourself in the hands of an expert masseur. As long as you can afford it, it is quite worth while. I think the egg treatment would be of wonderful help to you, and a masseur could give you this and give you the necessary massage after it.

JOHN J. YEAST FOR THE COMPLEXION treatment is any good yeast and may be taken in orange juice, milk, hot or cold water, or beef broth.

TAX EXEMPTION NEW DILEMMA FOR CON CON

Personal Property Levy Is Center of Fight.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.
Springfield, Ill., April 13.—The constitutional convention committee on revenue will probably decide this week what property, if any, shall be exempt from taxation in Illinois. Chairman Gale said today that he hopes the committee will be able to make its complete report between May 1 and 10.

One of the troublesome features is exemption on household goods. Delegates are urging exemptions all the way from $200 to $5,000. W. A. Johnson thinks that household goods to the value of $200 should not pay taxes if the head of the family lives with the family. Delegate Cruden would have a lower tax rate for widows and orphans. Delegate Michel would exempt furniture, pictures, musical instruments and other household goods of ornamental or adornment in actual use up to the value of $5,000. Cruden believes that $1,000 is high enough and Pincus that $500 is sufficient. Delegate Kunde, however, would exempt any personal property from taxation, if its total value is less than $1,000 and it is all the owner possesses.

Exemption for Veterans.
Still other exemptions are proposed. Delegate Six has been urging that the property of societies of veterans of any war in which the United States took part shall be nonassessable. The revenue committee favors this idea.

The late Edward Curds suggested that bonds of the state and governmental subdivisions be exempted. Delegate Barr limits his plan to state bonds, issued under existing legislation.

Certain property now is exempt—churches and schools—but Delegate Mills would extend that system. He would exempt property of the state, county and municipal governments, agricultural and horticultural societies, schools, religious and charitable institutions and the ground on which they stand and cemeteries.

Wants No Exemption.
Martin O'Brien, who has the job of extending all of Cook county's taxes, wants no exemptions, except by general laws passed by two-thirds of the general assembly.

Union labor and employers supply the leading card for tomorrow's sessions of the convention. Labor will talk late in the afternoon and the employers, Charles Pies and Dudley Taylor of Chicago and T. E. O'Brien in the evening.

OPERA SUNDAY TO AID JEWISH ORPHANS' HOME

On Sunday at Aryan Grotto Temple the junior auxiliary of the Marks Nathan Jewish Orphan home will present "Morocco Bound," a musical comedy. There will be matinee and evening performances. The comedy is being staged under the direction of Ned M. Becker. Special music has been written by Will J. Harris and Abe Glatt. The book has been written by W. R. Swetow and is in two acts and three scenes. Ida Atkins is one of those taking part. By special permission of F. V. Neumann, Mmc. Schoenfeld Lustgarten, dramatic soprano, will render vocal selections, assisted on the piano by Mr. Ehrhart. An orchestra of fifteen pieces will play under direction of Sam Lustgarten.

Woman Burglar Invades House While Man Sleeps

Lee T. Jensen of 4030 North Key-stone avenue, a night worker, was sleeping yesterday afternoon when he was awakened by a noise. He arose, got his revolver, and walked in on a woman burglar.

She screamed and fled, dropping a bundle as Jensen fired a shot.

She had taken nothing from his home, according to Jensen, who turned over to the Irving Park police the bundle which she had dropped.

The bundle was found to contain a white sailor hat, a pair of aluminum heels, and six cups and saucers.

Col. Foreman Is Cited for Exceptional Bravery

Col. Milton J. Foreman yesterday received from Gen. Pershing a citation for exceptional bravery and courage on the date of Nov. 1, 1918, at La Dhuys Perme, in the Argonne.

"I am very proud to have this from the general," said Col. Foreman. "Those were glorious times. Jerry was particularly nasty that day. I remember I was standing by my top sergeant when a shell burst near us. Only a miracle saved me."

The top sergeant lost a leg.

Blue and White—the Order for Summer Street Hats

A Specially Designed Group—$18 to $25

THE days are near when the foulard frock or dark satin one will require as its complement a brim hat made of some of the lighter materials—visca braid, batavia, fine lisere, with blue-and-white foulard—trimmed with nonchalant streamers of narrow grosgrain ribbon, or with effective stitchings of white angora, or with white facings, for lightness.

Here are just such Hats—in the English Room, and most attractive in their pricings. Every one is newly made, trim and smart and appropriate for warmer days and a brighter sun. Two are illustrated; priced at $22.50, in the group here at $18 to $25.

English Room, Fifth Floor, North, State.

The Charm of Youthfulness in Black Apparel

FOR instance, here in the Salon devoted to Black Apparel there are some of the most delightful Wraps. One is of quilted taffeta—a short coat of extreme youthfulness; another has capelike lines, of picot-petal-edged taffeta; while a third is of plaited black serge. For the elegant black Wrap there has been designed by the Fur Section a chignon dolman, vertically striped with broad bands of Hudson Seal (dyed muskrat). The generous collar is of the same becoming fur.

But the Wraps are only one division of the smart clothes the Black Apparel Salon features. There are all white Hats and Blouses, Frocks and Novelties; there are fascinating black-and-white originations; and all-black Dinner Frocks of filmy nets, combined with satin.

Black Floor, Wabash.

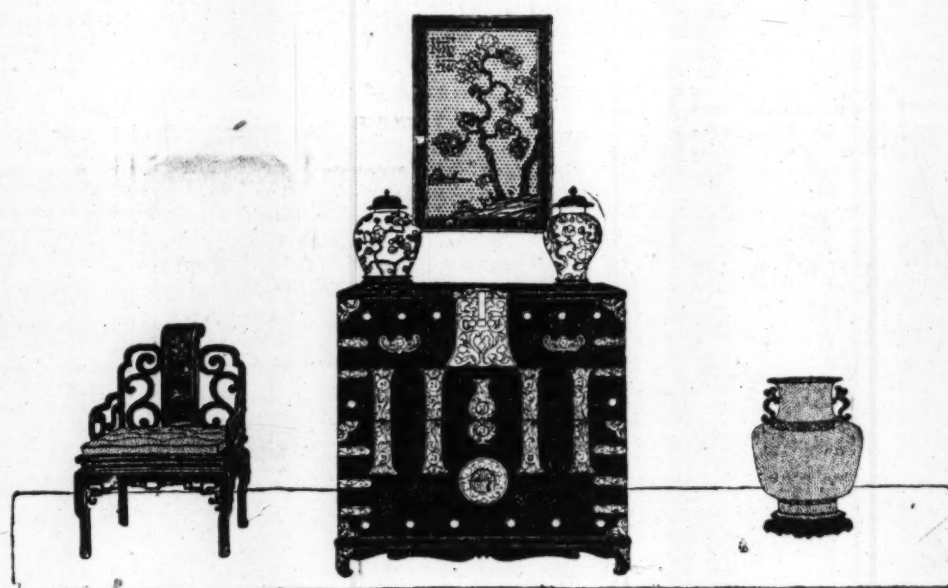

Novelty Printed Silks

The Yard, $3.50

IMMEDIATELY you see them, decorated as they are with birds and flowers and butterflies, you think of all the lovely things they would make.

For kimonos and fancy linings, or—now that Summer cottages are in view and town homes are being redecorated—for lamp shades and pillow covers, they make their appeal. The number of artistic designs offers wide selection and promises many a charming travel negligee or bit of home decorating.

Second Floor, South, State.

Old Oriental Artwares AT LOWERED PRICES

THE pieces in this list, and many others which are not here mentioned, are reduced materially because they have been in our stocks over a certain period of time, and must be disposed of at once. This Selling is an opportunity for collectors and art lovers. There are pieces in it which are impossible of duplication.

Reproduction of old Korean Chest, with brass hinges, bosses, and lock; five small drawers just inside the cover. $45. (Sketches.)

Chinese Porcelain Vase, Chien Lung (17th Century), in underglaze blue decoration Foo lion and chrysanthemum. Teakwood cover and base. $42.50. (Sketches.)

Pair of Screens, one represents "The Deer," the other, shown above, "The Stork." Each is in bas relief, worked in carved bone, ivory, teakwood, cherry wood, carnelian, and jade, with a poem by the Emperor Chien Lung in carved mutton-fat jade characters in one corner. Carved teak frame. Undoubtedly a piece from the imperial palace. $500 pair.

Kang Hsi blue and white Porcelain Jars (1662-1722) with design of boys playing. Carved wood covers, in lotus design. $70 pair.

17th Century Porcelain Vase, excavated about Kaijo Chosen, bean vine underglaze design. $36.50.

Celadon Bowls, in underglaze blue decoration, slightly in relief medallions of conventionalized flowers outside, also fish, shell, and "umbrella of 1,000 people"; fish and seaweed motif inside. Chien Lung. Scroll borders. $42 pair.

Chinese Porcelain Vase, in inlaid enamel. Eight enameled panels, four of them characters. Chien Lung. $140.

Square-sided Black Vase, with ascending stem Hawthorn pattern, enameled. Kang Hsi. $167.50.

Crackle Bowl, Chien Lung, with three feet; raised decoration of stork, deer, and fir tree in blue, brown edges. $70.

Chinese Pillow Block, or head rest, of pottery, with teakwood stand. Han (206 B. C.) Leaf design decoration. $19.50.

Pottery Jar, 12th century; excavated near Kaijo Chosen; mixed gray. $20.

Chest, black with carved tree decoration; leaves and fruit are inlaid in lacquer. Metal lock and trimmings. Chien Lung. $112.50.

Brown Pottery Jars, on cherry wood stands, have black carved bands and lugs in fungus design (supposed to be fungus that grew at the roots of the tree that sheltered Buddha). White inside. Chien Lung. Balluster form. These are priced at $175 pair.

CUSTOM CLOTHES FOR ALL THE LOVELY OUTDOOR DAYS

CLOTHES mean so much considered in terms of Summer days spent in out-of-the-way places, on ocean liners, at Canadian lakes, in faraway mountain resorts of our own land, as well as at the more people, fashionable playgrounds.

Set down amid people who must judge us chiefly by externals, it is important to have even the simplest frocks well-cut and distinctive. The Custom Apparel Sections have received a large number of the best Models from the late Parisian Openings; they have many new originations, and are ready at all times to design clothes to individual requirements and preferences. Lovely new Models are now on display.

Pearl Buttons

Special, the Card, 15c.

BUTTONS, after all, may make or mar the frock, suit or skirt to which they give the last finishing touch. Pearl Buttons, especially for Summer things, are among the most desirable.

These, marked far below their usual price, were secured for us through an especially advantageous purchase. White, of different sizes, 4 to 6 on a card.

First Floor, Middle, State.

New Spring Neckwear

These Attractive Models Are Very Specially Priced at 95c to $2.75

JUST a fresh, sheer bit of Neckwear will accomplish that look of trimness and good-grooming. This group, so very specially priced, offers a selection from which any woman may choose a dainty and charming variety.

In addition, Marabou Capes Collars are very welcome when Winter Furs are too heavy, and the Marabou Collars here, specially priced at $4.95, are especially worth inspection.

At $2.50. Above is shown Collar and Cuff Set of insertion and lace with puffing of net between. It is all white.

At $1.95. Below is a Modesty Shield of colored organdie with tiny tucks and ruffles.

At $2.75. At the extreme right is a Modesty Shield of net and insertion with the attached Collar to match.

At $1.85. Above is Collar and Cuff Set of organdie with hemstitching and tiny ruffles. At 95c are separate Collars of same style. There are others, too.

First Floor, Middle, State.

Store Winter Furs

Before Moths Find Lodgings in Them!

NOW is the best time to store Winter Furs; now, too, is the time to leave Furs for cleaning, repairing, renovating.

Making of Furs requires trained people; it cannot be hurried; the best work can be done at times like this, when the workrooms are uncrowded.

Black Floor, Wabash.

"The Menzies"

and "Hunting Stewarts" are two of many distinctive Plaids which have been woven in France and in Glasgow for the exhibit now featured in the Wool Fabrics Section, Second Floor. The Royal Stewart, the Plaid of King Edward, and that of Queen Victoria, and of the clans of Gordon, Forbes, Macaulay, Cummings, Argyle and Graham, are also on display.

Spring Housecleaning "Well Began Is Half Done"

IT'S a necessary process, this Spring cleaning; just as sure to happen as the first robin.

The best way to handle it is to have all the necessary equipment ready and to do the work easily and efficiently. We are ready to do all we can to help you in the most important part of the work—we have assembled great numbers of Brushes, and Brooms, and Wash Cloths, and Mops, and Chamois for windows, and Pails and Soaps, and Cleaning Powders, so you can come here and quickly fill the gaps that may exist in your Cleaning Equipment.

There are good reliable Tools, too, for the man who makes his own repairs around the house—Paints, Kalsomines and Varnishes for those who do their own decorating.

Household Utilities, Ninth Floor, Wabash.

"Scatter" Sizes in Oriental Rugs

THE smaller Rugs which are used with little groupings of Furniture or to cover small spaces, or for a decorative spot incidental to the main scheme of decoration, are often called by this obvious term. Occasionally a judicious use of several small Rugs like these, produces an excellent effect in a small room.

Among them we number at present charming examples in bordered effects, small allover patterns, plain-color centers, and others; Chinese, Seistan, Beloochistan, Sardarshahs, and Sarooks, especially being notable for their variety and value.

Good choice is afforded at prices between $20 and $100.

Third Floor, Wabash Avenue.

Fresh and Dainty and Charming Women's Cotton Frocks at $10

IT is really a very pleasant surprise that such pretty Frocks can still be bought for this moderate price. Fabric costs have necessarily soared, but here are well-made Frocks, of good materials, at $10.

One is a charming novelty cotton, striped in color, with a fine, sheer organdie vestee and trimmings of double rows of dainty lace. Its tucked skirt and flaring cuffs are also interesting. This is shown at the left.

Rose colored linene, or a French blue, may be selected in the Frock sketched at the right, with round collar and turned back cuffs, as well as bodice and skirt embroidered with dots to match.

An attractive checked gingham Frock comes, too, at $10; and has large, button trimmed pockets.

A figured voile at $10 also deserves your inspection.

RYANSAYS STOCK EXCHANGE BOARD ACTED TO 'COVER'

Stopped Stutz Trading to Save Themselves.

New York, April 13.—Allan A. Ryan, chairman of the Stutz Motor Car company, resigned today from the New York stock exchange and accused members of the board of governors of being short in Stutz stock, trading in which was suspended by the exchange when the price skyrocketed.

Ryan's letter says:

"From the moment when you started to take up the Stutz situation I have been impressed with the fact that in your deliberations and conclusions you were unduly swayed by those who have an interest antagonistic to me. On your board of governors are members of houses who, for themselves or their customers, are and have been right along short of Stutz stock; indeed, on your very committee having this matter in hand there is an active member who is a partner of a firm that is not only short of a large number of the shares, but contracted to sell Stutz up to the last moment that trading was allowed, and as yet failed to make delivery of such sales.

Suffered for Others' Faults.

"Your action in suspending trading in the Stutz stock was a gross injustice to every stockholder of the Stutz company and a violation upon them for the faulty and reckless speculation of men who had no interest in the Stutz company.

"From day to day there emanate from some body, if not official in character, then so closely related as to have what seems to be official sanction, declarations, and even threats, all directed toward me, my fellow stockholders, and our companies, and all designed only to assist in extricating from their valid exchange contracts those who unsuccessfully attempted to depress the market value of our securities.

"So long as you permit men who have a personal financial interest at stake to take part in your deliberations, I cannot escape the feeling that your system is unjust."

Remick Admits Being Short.

President William H. Remick of the New York stock exchange, has admitted that the firm was short $20 shares of the stock at the time the dealings were suspended, but was also long 553 shares, being long on balance thirty-three shares.

Mr. Ryan, in an interview tonight, said:

"I will supply the names of the nine other members of the board of governors mentioned in Wall street gossip as being short either for themselves or for their customers of the stock of the Stutz Motor Car Company of America. They are:

Herbert T. B. Jaquelin of the firm of Jaquelin & De Coppel, 65 Broadway.

Allen L. Lindley of Lindley & Co., 100 Broadway.

J. P. Carlisle of Carlisle, Mellick & Co., 43 Exchange place.

Donald G. Geddes of Clark, Dodge & Co., 61 Wall street.

Jerome J. Danzig of Jerome J. Danzig & Co., 100 Broadway.

Bayard Dominick of Dominick & Dominick, 115 Broadway.

Puller Potter of Potter, Choate & Prentiss, 5 Nassau street.

Howard E. Whitney of H. N. Whitney & Sons, Mills building.

Arthur Turnbull of Post & Flagg, 11 Wall street.

"You may add that this is the packed jury that tried the Stutz case."

Trading in Stutz was suspended two weeks ago after the price had risen rapidly from around 100 to 351. Shorts stake that Ryan held your deliberations, and the exchange board absolved members from the usual obligation to deliver stock they had sold pending settlement of the matter by legal proceedings or otherwise. In one auction sale after the suspension several hundred shares sold at 701.

Then fluctuations in the price of Stutz Carburator, which Ryan controls, attracted attention and the exchange directed its members to reject recent dealings in the stock. The Association of Stock Exchange Firms appointed a committee to try to arrange the Stutz matter, but negotiations with Ryan by this committee and by the exchange itself proved futile. The matter is expected to be aired in the courts.

Flee Truck, Leave Baby Sister; She Meets Death

John and Goldie Katlo of 2330 Princeton avenue, holding the hands of their sister, Viola, 4 years old, attempted to cross the street in front of 2338 Princeton avenue yesterday afternoon, when they noticed an automobile truck approaching. The older children dropped the hands of their sister and fled. The truck struck and fatally injured Viola. The police took Joseph Lambert, driver of the truck, into custody.

Human Chain Saves Man Wedged Between Buildings

Police from the Maxwell street station yesterday found James Sarles, 45 years old, wedged between the buildings at 730 and 732 South Halsted street. Detective Sergeants Robert Jacobs and John Egan went to the second floor of the building, formed a human chain, and Jacobs tied a rope around Sarles' body. He was hauled up to the second story.

ALICE BRADY IN 'FOREVER AFTER'

BY PERCY HAMMOND.

ARGE audiences grope their way through the darkness of the theatre, and Alice Brady and others through some virtuous and appealing junk entitled "Forever After." It is by Owen Davis.

Mr. Davis, as you may know, is one of those seriously carefree dramatists whose inspection of the sentimental life is casual and whose reproduction of it upon the stage is haphazard. To enjoy his transcripts one should attend them in the rubber nipple mood, for they do not bear mature inspection. Happiness is to be found in their process, however, when approached upon all four, and "Forever After" during a year or more, has roomed the metropolis, a prosperous entertainment.

In it Miss Brady, who is one of the looking well dressed, and a competent mistress of the emotions involved. She starts, a giggling schoolgirl, in a secluded New England hamlet, engaged in puppy-love with the son of the village physician. Doctors, it seems, are not received socially in this small town, and her haughty mother steps upon the burgeoning romance. He is not in her set, and is forbidden the garden.

Even after the boy has acquired a seat in the Harvard boat, the mother frowns upon the intimacy. Perhaps her coolness is due to the coincidence that nearly every other youth in the village rows in this crew, lessening thus the social importance of collegiate athletics. When his father dies, hopelessly in debt, Teddy Wayne takes his degree out to see what he can get on it. So he becomes a clerk for a small town apothecary, and wears with no particular grace the shabby livery of indigence. The top button is missing from his overcoat.

Eventually he goes away to New York, after a lugubrious farewell performed on the outskirts of a dancing-party at which he is not a guest. He tells her that he does not love her, and leaves her in great distress. Miss Brady's sob at this juncture is of the best, and the other acting that accompanies this is first class, modern emotion. It reduces, as it should, the audience to a dewy pulp. The beautiful green evening dress which she wears on this occasion interferes not at all with the result.

The war intervening, they meet later, of course, in a hospital, she a Red Cross nurse, he a wounded captain of infantry. Miss Brady in this scene adorns herself in of course, and spotless white Red Cross regalia, much more sumptuous than that worn by the other nurse. Her cap is a gorgeous chaplet, and the insignia on her arm is of satin. Writing from the Presbyterian hospital, a regular nurse complains that real Red Cross women, ministering in the field, wore no such nifty uniforms as these. Red Cross givers, however, lapse in Miss Brady's actions when they carry Teddy into the chateau on a stretcher and she leans over him and recognizes him. The ensuing showers are reasonable, for it is a fine bit of acting.

The play's architecture is of the moving picture sort, employing the device known to the films as the "toy boat." A deserted battle field containing a spotlight and the wounded hero begins the comedy, and is inserted every now and then as a sort of dream. It is rather effective. I did not recognize many of the men, but as human beings, so strange was their method of speech and locomotion, but James Crane, Miss Brady's husband, represented the hero honestly, and there was fidelity to nature in the playing of Miss Virginia Hopper as a Red Cross nurse, and of Gustave Roland as a French surgeon.

Auto Hits 'L', Rebounds, Is Struck by Car; 2 Injured

Frank O'Leary, 1477 West Seventy-third place, a live stock broker, and Dena A. Cremis, 1217 West Seventh place, were injured last night when the auto in which they were riding struck an upright under the elevated tracks crossing Racine avenue at Seventy-fifth street, bounded back, and was hit by a street car. Luke Kelly, the chauffeur, escaped with a few bruises. O'Leary and Cremis are at St. Bernard's hospital.

Schools to Close Friday for Teachers' Meeting

Hurray, kids! No school Friday. The reason is that 1,200 teachers and principals will meet at 2 p. m. on that day to discuss the studies for next fall. Pupils' requirements for the Latin classes are to be reduced at the meeting of the board of education, this afternoon. Studies in civics and sociology are to be added.

MILLER, SCHOOL SECRETARY, DIES OF AUTO INJURY

Crash That Hurt Three Is Fatal to Official.

Albert H. Miller, secretary of the board of education, died at 6 o'clock last night in the Grant hospital from injuries received on Sunday in an automobile accident three miles south of Grayslake, Ill.

With Mr. Miller at the time of the accident were Mrs. Miller, Albert H. Severinghaus, member of the board, Mrs. Severinghaus, and the Misses Minerva and Gladys Severinghaus. Mrs. Miller was badly bruised, and Miss Minerva Severinghaus received several cuts.

Pinned Beneath Car.

Mr. Miller was driving the car, according to Dr. J. E. H. Atkinson, 1550 Milwaukee avenue, who attended the victims. He attempted to avoid hitting another car when his car ran into a ditch. The automobile turned over twice, threw the members of the party into the road and pinned Mr. Miller beneath the wreckage.

According to the authorities at Libertyville, the party carrying the injured persons drove into the town with the license number of the car removed and had their injuries dressed by two local physicians. They refused to give their names and departed for Chicago at once.

Mr. Miller was taken to the Grant hospital, where it was found his chest was crushed and all the ribs on his right side were broken.

Leaves Widow, Two Children.

Mr. Miller, who was 48 years old, lived with his family at 3138 Logan boulevard. Besides the widow he is survived by two children, Lola, 14 years old, and Louis, 11.

He has been active in thirty-third ward politics with the Lindsay faction for a number of years. He was minute clerk in Judge Windes' court for some time and later was appointed clerk of the board of education under the present regime.

CHICAGO REALTY EXPERT TO GET U.S. HONOR TODAY

Gilbert F. Woods will be decorated with the Distinguished Service Medal today at the luncheon of the ways and means committee of the Association of Commerce at the Hotel La Salle. The presentation will be made by Col. C. F. von dem Bussche, who comes to Chicago especially for this purpose.

Mr. Woods, shortly after the beginning of the war, was asked to go to Washington to take charge of the real estate requirements of the war department. He organized the real estate service of the department and was designated its director. His citation, issued by Gen. Peyton C. March, reads:

"For exceptionally meritorious and distinguished services. He rendered invaluable service to the war department in the acquisition, either by purchase, condemnation, requisition, donation or lease, of all real estate required for the use of the army during the world war, also in the disposal of such real estate as was no longer required. By his technical knowledge, broad judgment and energetic action, valuable results were obtained."

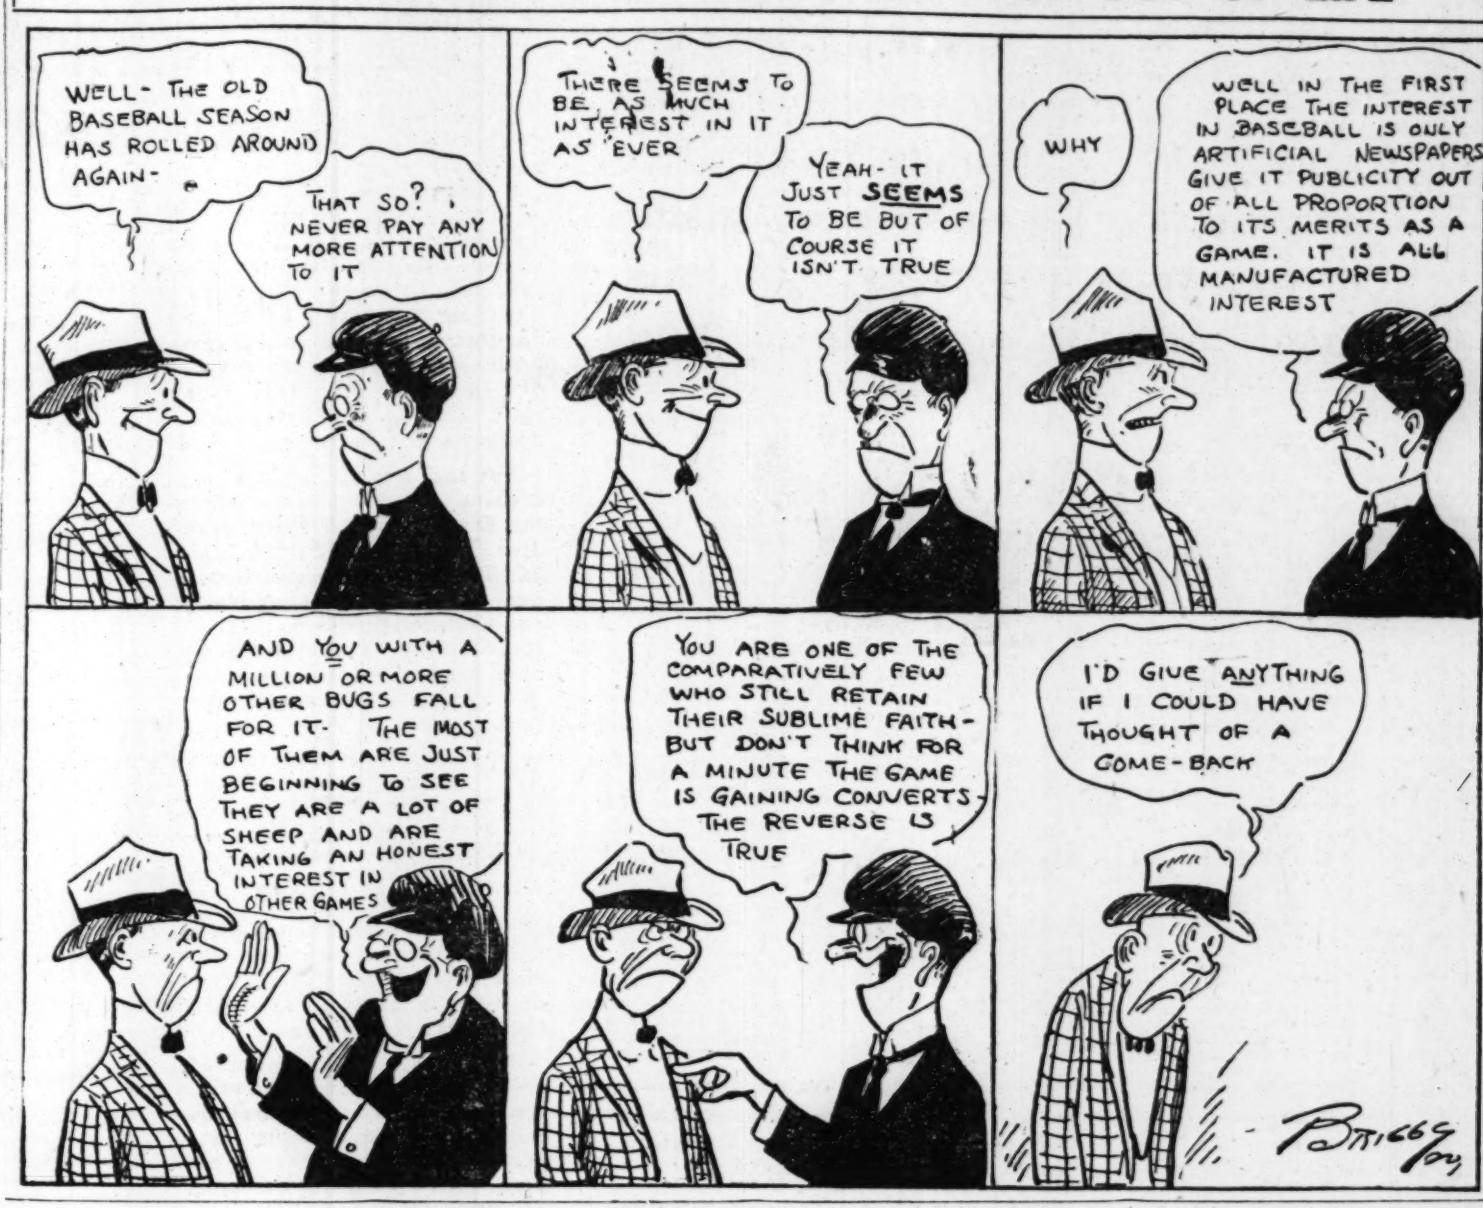

Hunt Kin of Victim of Robbers, Believed Dying

Search is being made for relatives or friends of Arnold Melnuth, a cigar salesman who was seriously injured by three holdup men Sunday night. Melnuth, who is 52, is still unconscious at St. Bernard's hospital and physicians say he probably will die. Isadore Cohn, owner of a cigar store at 225 West Madison street, said Melnuth made about $1,200 a month as Chicago agent for Bowring & Co., a New York cigar firm, and has a wife and daughter in Australia.

Sail for Europe June 19

Capt. Marshall Field III and his family are going to Europe. He applied at the federal building yesterday for passports to England and France. They will visit relatives in England and later will tour France. They will leave New York on the Celtic on June 19. Thomas Sells, passport clerk, said he has received the applications a day for the last 100 days. Ninety members of the Swedish Choral society have secured passports to tour European countries.

Fifty thousand dollars more is needed for the general relief fund. Your gift would help. To be distributed next week. A fund of $588.75 has been raised by the Jefferson Park community council, which also received $52 worth of merchandise for the relief of the tornado victims.

11 HEIRS SHARE COWAN FORTUNE; FIGHT TO GO ON

An appeal to the Circuit court of DuPage county was taken yesterday from the order of Probate Judge Rath of Wheaton recognizing eleven of the claimants to the $200,000 fortune of the late William P. Cowan, late Standard Oil company magnate. The appeal was entered by Attorney Ralph L. Peck, representing John Cowan, alleged uncle of the deceased. It will probably be heard next fall.

The claimants recognized by the court are:

Birdella A. Colby, Cadillac, Mich.; William Saxton, Eagle, Mich.; Walter Saxton and Mrs. Caroline Saxton Hart, both of Grand Lodge, Mich.; Charles Saxton, Bannister, Mich.; William B. Stillwell, Springfield, Mass.; Henry S. Stillwell, Gloverville, N. Y.; Judson Phelps, Detroit, Mich.; Edward L. and Ida M. Shadboldt of Aiken, and Catherine Shadboldt Hyatt.

The only testimony at yesterday's session was introduced by Attorney Charles S. Cutting in behalf of David Cowan, living near Columbus, O., said to be the only living relative who had known the late Mr. Cowan.

EUGENE HOYNE CALLED 'DUMMY' IN STOCK FIRM

State's Attorney Macley Hoyne and six other creditors of the bankrupt brokerage firm of Eugene M. Hoyne & Co., definitely were named as silent partners by Attorney Michael Geas, representing a committee of creditors at a hearing before Referee in Bankruptcy Sidney C. Eastman yesterday.

The six others are William R. Moorhouse, Royal C. Vilas, Thomas C. J. Woodmaster, 5339 Grace street, a policeman—Did you say rents? It was five years ago that I quit paying them and took a house on an installment plan. My fellow cops told me I was crazy then. Who's loony now?

Price Creditors Real Heads, Is Charge.

Mr. Moorhouse in direct examination conducted by Ralph R. Hawkhurst, representing the receiver, denied there was such a partnership. Attorney Geas said he could show that the firm of Eugene M. Hoyne & Co. was insolvent at its inception, when it took over the liabilities of Perry-Price & Co. in October, and that it has been insolvent ever since. He also said that Macley Hoyne and the other creditors of Perry-Price & Co. were the actual owners and controllers of the Hoyne firm.

Loss Placed at $900,000.

"In the language of the street," Mr. Geas said, "these men were stuck" for about $900,000 when Perry-Price & Co. failed. They drew up an agreement, of which I have a copy, giving Eugene Hoyne and Eugene de Bronkhard no power to hire or discharge employees. The policies of the firm were dictated by the creditors.

"These creditors" had the right to liquidate the assets of the company at any time—in short, Hoyne and de Bronkhard had no actual direction of their firm's business. The creditors, therefore, are liable in this bankruptcy case, possibly criminally liable," said Dohney.

RAISE OR STRIKE, STAND OF SCHOOL ENGINEERS TODAY

Three hundred and fifty school engineers may vote to strike tonight if the board of education does not take favorable action on their demands for a 40 per cent increase in wages at its meeting this afternoon. James Dohney, secretary of the union, has called a meeting for this evening in the Masonic temple.

"The men are sick of the dilly-dallying of the board's finance committee," said Dohney. "We helped the committee all we could. Finally it worked out a plan to give a 34 per cent increase to elementary school engineers and 18 per cent for those in the high schools. We accepted and then the committee said it didn't like the plan and would work out a new schedule. It is possible we will vote to strike."

A demand for immediate action toward a reasonable increase will be made by an engineers' committee headed by Charles E. Driscoll and Mr. Dohney.

IRISH DECLARE BRITAIN LETS HUNDREDS DIE

London Says It Won't Free Hunger Strikers.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[Copyright, 1920, by the Tribune Company.]

DUBLIN, April 13.—The viceroy to night refused to receive the acting lord mayor and the high sheriff regarding the release of the political prisoners at Mountjoy, stating that the answer he gave yesterday was the answer of the British government.

"Threatens a crisis. A statement today was given to the American consul in Dublin by the Dublin corporation as representing the fathers and mothers of the Irish prisoners.

"We call the attention of your nation to the unparalleled brutality with which our sons are being tortured because of their political faith," the statement says. "No civilized nation mistreats its political prisoners."

England does. They are refused the rights of citizenship and herded among common criminals.

No Action on Protest.

"The Irish political prisoners have protested since after time. Humanity has been shocked at the suffering and woe which accompanied such protests but now the crisis has been reached. Over one hundred of our sons are being done to death by a painful process. Humanity will again be outraged if this prisoners die."

"Parents throughout the world will join in our sorrow. The crime will be branded as unforgotten, but such sympathy will come too late."

"One hundred are dying. Some may be dead now. England is responsible. We parents appeal to humanity through your nation."

STRIKE TIES UP IRELAND

DUBLIN, April 13.—[By the Associated Press.]—The strike which began today in Ireland, except in Ulster, if sympathy with the political prisoners here and elsewhere, was a general one. At first it was intended as a one-day demonstration, but a manifesto issued today by the Trades Union congress and the Labor party calls for its continuance indefinitely.

The manifesto exhorts all citizens to assist in preserving perfect order. It says the strike is a solemn protest on which the lives of men are dependent, and that no occasion should be given the military for violence.

The strike could not have been more complete. All kinds of business was suspended. A few of the large hotels tried to keep open, but they were picketed and obliged to close.

Clemency for Some?

LONDON, April 13, 3 a. m.—Decision to modify the treatment of Irish prisoners who were arrested under the defense of the realm act has been reached by the British government, notwithstanding the fact that the arrested men are in the house of commons yesterday. It is stated in unofficial but well informed sources.

These concessions will apply only to those who have not been tried and convicted who will not be able to take advantage of them.

Debate in the Commons.

During the session yesterday Hon. Law admitted that many of the Irish prisoners, both at Mountjoy, Dublin, and in English institutions, are being detained under the defense of the realm act, and that the arrested men be either tried or subjected to special treatment.

U. S. Envoy Can't Help.

Acting Lord Mayor O'Neill of Dublin and High Sheriff McWalter appealed ineffectually today to John W. Davis, the American ambassador, after they had failed to persuade the American consul at Dublin to intervene for the Irish hunger strikers.

A message signed by O'Neill and McWalter and received by Ambassador Davis says the consul said he had no diplomatic power.

GERMAN AID CHARGED

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]
[By Speed Cable.]
LONDON, April 13.—The London Morning Post, which is bitterly anti-Irish, today prints letters purporting to show the Germans are assisting the Sinn Fein rebellion.

The letters, written by Thomas Loughlin of Dublin, who is said to be a Sinn Fein leader, refer to a recent trip he made to Germany. One is addressed to Baron von Horst, a German spy reported from Great Britain during the war, and asks for supplies of "government electric cable for the Dublin corporation." It also refers to ships.

The Post alleges this is code indicating arms and munitions, but it does not disclose the code nor how the letters came into its possession. It states the letters were not sent direct, but to an intermediary.

C. & N. W. PLANS FINANCE FOR 117 YEARS TO COME

The Chicago and Northwestern Railway company yesterday adopted a plan which will provide for the financing of the railroad system for more than a century to come.

At the annual meeting the stockholders authorized a new bond issue which eventually is expected to approximate $600,000,000. This issue will consist of first and refunding mortgage gold bonds, and will provide for the refunding of the present entire bonded indebtedness, aggregating $213,653,000, and for financing future permanent improvements, additions, and equipment needs.

The new bonds will have a lifetime of 117 years, being dated May 1, 1920, and maturing May 1, 2037. The bonds will be issued from time to time and at such rates of interest as the directors may determine.

Details of Financing.
At no time may the amount of new bonds, together with all outstanding prior debt, exceed three times the net outstanding capital stock, which at present is nearly $170,000,000 of a total authorized capitalization of $500,000,000. The new bonds will provide for the retirement of nearly $110,000,000 in obligations maturing between 1921 and 1948. The new issue will be secured by about 13,000 miles of line.

The stockholders approved the purchase of eleven subsidiary railroad companies, in which all the capital stock is owned by the parent company. The action of the directors in accepting the federal guaranteed income for six months also was approved. The retiring directors were re-elected and Gordon Abbott was elected to fill a vacancy.

More Stock Dividends.
More stock dividends were announced yesterday. The directors of the Union Bag and Paper company declared a stock dividend of 50 per cent, which probably will be distributed next month. A special meeting of stockholders has been called for May 1 to vote on increasing the authorized common stock from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000.

The Detroit and Cleveland Navigation company stockholders voted to increase the capital stock from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 and to distribute a stock dividend of 25 per cent.

Mandel Brothers

Misses' section, fourth floor

Misses' trig tailormades, $65

—values singularly prepossessing
in view of prevailing high prices

For the suits are fashioned of excellent fabrics and in styles that add to the authenticity of fashion the charm of youthfulness.

Tricotine suits, serge suits, $65 and suits of poiret twill

The three styles sketched are representative. The jackets are smartly tailored in the most youthful modes: eton, box coat and semi-tailored effects. Fourth floor.

In readiness for myriad springtime weddings:

Bridal veils and trousseau hats and hats for the bride's attendants

Frail, floating mists of tulle to envelop the bride; hats to match her every suit and frock; and charming hats for the maid of honor and the bridesmaids.

Going-away hats for brides

You may choose from our large collection or have your own ideas executed. Hats in all the wanted colors, and in the newest shapes, in a wide price range.

Bridesmaids' hats in pastel tints—large picture hats or quaint pokes of airy georgette, tulle and lace, or of drooping hair braid or leghorn straw in exquisite colorings.

Bridal veils—ready or made to order —fashioned with orange blossoms in wreath fashion or with a lace coronet, bandeau or cap; at prices ranging from $15 to $35. Hat shop, fifth floor.

Our money-saving transaction is turned to your advantage in a sale of women's ultra smart frocks

—georgette, taffeta or tricolette

The frocks are in the later, more favored versions of the mode, and will appeal particularly to women of cultivated taste. The price is closely computed, and is decidedly low for so high a standard of fabric, styling and needlecraft.

Costume shop, fourth floor.

Tricolette and taffeta $75 Georgette frocks in plain taupe, navy and black, and in flowered effects.

The taffeta and tricolette frocks are elaborately embroidered with chenille, silk floss or beads. The georgette frocks are effectively beaded, or adorned with lace and finely plaited ruffles of taffeta silk. The three styles illustrated are typically smart.

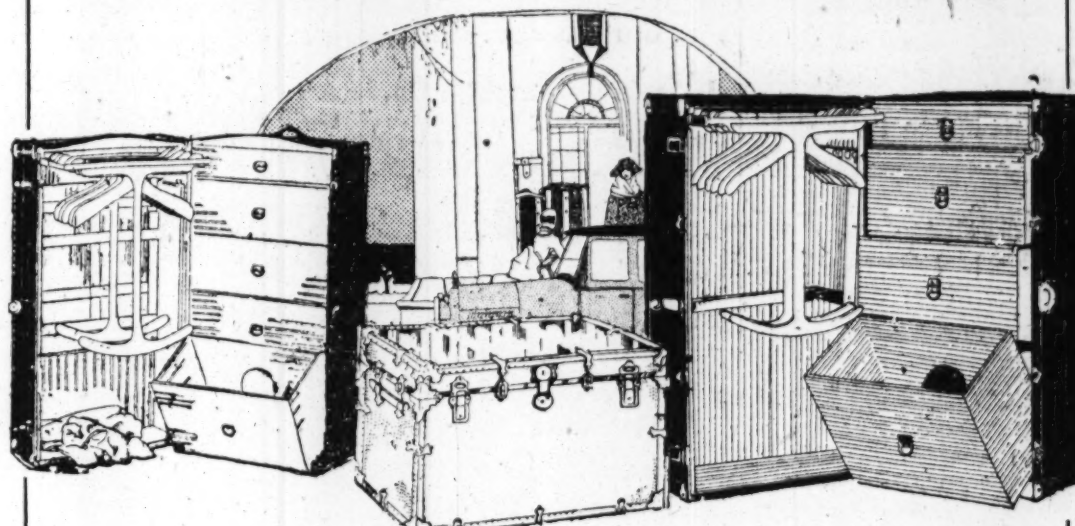

Mandel Brothers

Luggage shop, sixth floor

Luggage de luxe decidedly lower than the present market would warrant

—because it represents last year's contracts, recently fulfilled, at 1919 prices.

Wardrobe trunks

$35

Of medium size, fiber covered, cretonne lined, and riveted; compartments for hats, etc.; snap lock, draw bolts; blue and green combination.

Wardrobe trunks

Steamer or taxi size, fiber covered, fully riveted; snap lock, draw bolts; suitable for men or women. Light in weight—excellent for European travel.

Wardrobe trunks

$50

Full sized trunks, with raised top, fiber covered and hand riveted, and equipped with compartments for hats, shoes, etc. The values are remarkable.

General purpose trunks, $20

Fiber covered, thoroughly riveted, cloth lined; two trays—compartments in top tray; draw bolts; 38-inch size.

Storage trunks, special, $14

Strong, durable trunks for storage purposes and moving from city to country home. Sizes 36, 38 and 40-inch. Sixth floor.

Grand Rapids manufacturer's entire stock of bedroom furniture at large savings

Chicagoans were alert to apprehend values far above the ordinary, and gave the sale a mighty impetus earlier in the week. Today's attractions are quite as important and desirable.

Louis XVI. bedroom suite in walnut or old ivory

This suite has met with much favor owing to its clean, graceful lines, superior construction and excellent finish. All drawers are dovetailed front and back and are dust-proof.

The prices are moderate. Full sized bow-end bed, $134.50; large dresser, $154; chiffonade with enclosed sliding trays and one large drawer, $146.50; dressing table, with triplicate mirror, $118; vanity case, with full length center mirror, $185; night stand, $27.50; bench, chair and rocker, $22 each. See the sketch. Seventh floor.

Men's suits and topcoats, $35

—a record low price

—and every garment of standard make and quality. Suits of tweed, cheviot, worsted, flannel, serge and cassimere. Topcoats of knitted materials and in flannel effects. Men's and young men's styles and sizes. Second floor.

A sale of men's silk gloves

—extra special 1.35 —double tipped

Street gloves at a price so very low that many men, and women who buy for men, will purchase several pairs. Wide variety of colors and sizes. 1st floor.

Men's White House shoes

at a notably moderate price

The best of leathers and fittings go into White House shoes, and the designs are made by men with years of experience. White House shoes fit perfectly, and are famous for wear.

Featured at $10

White House shoes of dark cordo tan, black calf and black kidskin; straight lace and blucher; English and medium toe; at $10. First floor.

Boys' Buster Brown foot shaping shoes are the proper shoes for growing feet. Low shoes in tan and black gunmetal; lace models, foot-form and English lasts; sizes 10 to 12, 5.75; 12½ to 2, 6.25; 2½ to 6, 7.25.

CARSON PIRIE SCOTT & Co

New Spring Capes Arrive

Varied in Line, Unusual in Detail

Choice may be made now with particular advantage. Superior workmanship lends distinction to fabrics carefully selected. Style features are out-of-the-ordinary.

Women's Capes of Fine Tricotine, $85

A collar new and very smart distinguishes this cape. Youth-giving lines are achieved by a clever handling of panels. In sand-color, taupe, navy blue, and black. Sketched at the right.

Misses' Capes of Soft Peach-Bloom, $85

There is a sweep of line in this cape particularly appealing to youth. It is rather draped in effect, and the collar rolls high at the back. This cape in brown or beaver at $85, and in fortuna cloth at $110. Left.

Other Capes for Women and Misses Up to $150.

Fourth Floor, North and South.

More New Tub Frocks

In the Fashions of Summer 1920

A plentiful supply for summer days is easily possible when one may choose such frocks at pricings so moderate.

Women's Frocks of Gingham and of Fine Voile, $8.50 to $15

The dainty sheer collars and vestees so much in favor now are smart features of these frocks. Skirts follow the new ways of pleats and tunics.

The darker colors practical in frocks of this type are here in wide variety, also the lighter shades.

Misses' Frocks of Gingham, $8.50 to $12.50

Within this moderate price range, choice may be made which is certain to meet the exacting wishes of youth. New features in the way of collars, sashes and belts are adapted with unusual skill in these frocks.

Fresh touches of organdie are noted on some, others more tailored in style use crisp white pique.

Fourth Floor, North and South.

Summer Hats, Untrimmed,

In Beautifully Colored Soft Straws

Just the sort of hat wanted for summer frocks and sports apparel. Here is an unusually wide assortment of those graceful shapes which lend themselves to the charming flower, trimmings much in favor.

Priced at $2.95 to $5.75

A range so moderate in price as to point the advantage of selecting now for summer days. In exceptionally lovely colors and variety of shapes. Many of the straws are hand-woven in charming designs.

Wreaths of field flowers and bright fruits, trimmings appropriate for these hats, may be selected from, specially prepared groups.

Fifth Floor, South.

French-Style Footwear

Adapted to More Conservative Tastes

This French style footwear, as it is presented in these assortments, is indeed meeting with notable favor.

These low shoes have lost none of their characteristics, but they have been subtly modified to meet the demands of those exacting in footwear. Especially featured—

Graceful One-Eyelet Low Shoes
and Ankle-Strap Styles Are $16.50 Pair

The one-eyelet style may be chosen in patent leather, black, brown and gray suede, black kidskin and black satin. Sketched at the right.

The ankle-strap style in black or brown suede, patent leather, black kidskin and black satin. Sketched at the left.

Third Floor, South.
